SIFTING THROUGH THE RUBBLE. Members of the Long Lake Fire Department and an arson investigating team search for the source of an explosion that demolished a home at 4129 Kaseburg Lane, Pontoon Beach, early Wednesday morning. John P. Moore, 19, son of the owner, Darlene Moore, is in critical condition at St. John Mercy Medical Center with third degree burns to one third of his body. He was found pinned under debris. Authorities would like to question several persons about the cause of the blaze.

Rules Mehelic must resign or appeal

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic must vacate his office by 5 p.m. Friday, unless an appellate court rules otherwise by the deadline. That was the ruling Tuesday by Madison County Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson in a quo warranto motion filed by Assistant State Attorney John Delaney Jr.

That evening, the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees took no action on declaring the highway commissioner's office vacant, although it had been indicated such a motion might be considered.

In court proceedings that day, Ferguson dismissed a motion by Mehelic's attorney, H. Carl Runge, to dismiss the quo warranto motion, which involves civil, rather than criminal, action.

Delaney argued that Mehelic has been "convicted of something tantamount to theft. There's no reason for a dismissal (of the motion) or a stay in this proceeding."

In reviewing the cases the two attorneys submitted in the proceedings, Judge Ferguson said, "I don't think any of these cases stand for the proposition that the defendant can stay in office."

He then ordered the ouster of Mehelic, adding, "The court does that with the understanding that the appellate court has the authority to enter some kind of stay order."

AFTER THE court decision, Runge was asked whether he intends to approach the appellate court in Mt. Vernon for a stay order, so that Mehelic may continue as highway commissioner. He answered, "I would think so."

Mehelic was convicted July 17 of one count of official misconduct for ordering township employees to do work on a personal car. Last month, he was sentenced to two years of probation, ordered to devote 200 hours to public service work and fined $100 plus court costs.

However, Judge Ferguson delayed implementing the sentence

while Mehelic's attorneys appeal the conviction. At that sentencing, Ferguson also declined to rule on the question of forfeiture of office, saying that forfeiture of office is not part of a court sentence.

THAT ACTION led Delaney to file the quo warranto motion. Mehelic is free on a $10,000 recognizance bond, but he still faces five more counts of official misconduct on charges of directing employees to perform personal work for him on township time. An appeal of the official misconduct conviction was filed with the appellate clerk on Sept. 21.

Tuesday night, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs, speaking on behalf of the board, said, "We were going to take action tonight (on declaring the highway commissioner's post vacant), but we decided to let the courts do this. It could be that the appellate court would disagree and remand this back to the courts in Edwardsville. I think our best bet would be to wait, on the advice of our attorney. I don't like to step on the court's toes, so we'll let the courts take their actions."

TRUSTEE Helen Hawkins stated that she disagrees with Briggs' stand on the issue.

Township Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. told the Press-Record that if the board would declare the office vacant and the appellate court reinstates Mehelic, a "legal snarl" may result, and Mehelic would be able to file a suit to contest the vacancy declaration.

Because of his conviction, Mehelic has been denied access to Fairmount Park Racetrack and all other Illinois racetracks, according to a ruling by track stewards.

Mehelic, 54, has raced horses since 1962 and has been in the state's breeding program since 1974, according to Mehelic himself.

MEHELIC SAYS his political enemies caused his racing privileges to be suspended. He told reporters that somebody obviously informed the stewards of his felony conviction in circuit court.

Runge said the circuit court's ruling has been appealed and that a decision will be made by the appellate court.

Commit funds to school debt

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Funds from two Nov. 6 school financial proposals were officially committed Tuesday night to rid Granite City District Nine of debt.

The Board of Education adopted two resolutions—affecting a $6,600,000 working cash fund bond issue and a 40-cent increase in the education fund tax rate limit. Citizens have begun a "vote Yes" campaign urging support of the two ballot proposals.

CURRENT DEBT is owed "to various lending institutions in the amount of $7,600,000" and interest costs associated with that debt "amount to approximately $800,000 per year," the resolutions say.

They declare and ordain that the board "shall employ" and utilize the funds and proceeds to "balance the district's operating budget" and to "reduce the district's existing debt and the interest costs of financing that debt."

Superintendent Frank L. Kraus recommended a "decision," saying the specific use of the money is a frequent question at gatherings where the school election is discussed.

"THE PEOPLE WANT to be sure that we are going to rid the school district of debt. It is important that the board make this commitment," Kraus said.

Board President David Partney backed the resolutions, commenting that "a lot of disbelief" needs to be resolved in voters' minds.

Partney added that teachers have approved an agreement accepting the concept that the Nov. 6 proposals are being devoted to debt retirement and budget balancing.

BOTH RESOLUTIONS were adopted by voice votes, with no dissent.

The working cash fund document was passed on a motion by Monroe Worthen and second by Thomas Mlofasky. The education fund resolution was approved on a motion by Mlofasky and second by Kelly Hogan.

All seven members attended, and six were present when the resolutions were enacted. Several arrived at the board session a few minutes late due to events related to the school election.

PRES. PARTNEY announced receipt of word from Laborers Local 397 that it is endorsing the school proposals. Business Agent H. E. Tyler said Local 397 is urging support by its members and the public.

Signup of voters sets new record

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Voter registration will break all records this year and possibly will reach 140,000 in Madison County, Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said 124,656 were eligible to vote in the March 1984 primary. With the Nov. 6 election approaching, the number has soared to more than 130,000, she noted. Registration for the 1980 general election totaled 132,000 in this county.

IN LINE WITH a new state law, which was described as having "incredible impact," she has trained many new registrars this year and some in this group are unusually active, Miss Bowles said.

Helping sign up new voters are such individuals as union leaders, high school principals, librarians and officers of civic organizations.

Tax billing of real estate traditionally was on time before computerization, but it has never been on time since, inconveniencing taxing agencies and costing taxpayers many dollars for interest, the speakers said.

BILLING BY JUNE 1 is a 1985 goal, aided by a committee that she proposed. It will take a monthly look at the progress of tax work and will seek to make timely recommendations to speed the process, the club was told.

Madison finalizes cable TV agreement

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Lon Carruth, general manager of South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., headquartered in Maryville, presented the Madison City Council Tuesday night with a check for $515,000 for the purchase of the city-owned cable system.

The system, which already is installed to provide burglar alarm services, will be used by South-Western to provide cable TV service to the residents of Madison.

THE CHECK buying the system was presented to Mayor Mike Sasyk and the aldermen Monday night during a special session.

Madison aldermen approved Ordinance 1049, authorizing the sale of the cable system and the bill of sale between the city and South-Western Cable TV, a limited partnership organized under the laws of the state of North Carolina.

According to the franchise agreement, it will be in effect for 15 years, starting after publication of the ordinance in local newspapers. Madison City Attorney Casper Nighossian explained that if termination of the contract becomes necessary, the city has the option to repurchase the equipment and system, at book value.

THE ALDERMEN also approved payment of $2,047 to Nighossian for work completed specifically on the cable project.

Sasyk requested approval from the council for the mayor and the finance committee to invest the money derived from the cable sale until a designation for use of the funds is finalized. All aldermen present were in agreement. Absent were Aldermen Don Garrett and Charles Rockett.

Smooth sailing

Attempting to make a congested area of Johnson Road less so, the Granite City Street Department lined a two-tenth mile section of the road last week with center turning lanes. Thus far, the attempt appears to be working, as it enables through traffic to pass on the outside.

APA hosts Adopt-A-Dog Month

They are always glad to see you. They love and trust you completely, and they never tire of your tricks. That's the kind of best friends dogs are.

You can always count on your dog. And now, dogs are hoping they can count on people to come to their rescue.

October is national Adopt-A-Dog Month at 750 animal shelters, including the Granite City Association for the Protection of Animals (APA) Shelter, located at 5000 Old Alton Road.

Adopt-A-Dog Month, which is in its fourth year nationwide, was started to find homes for the many puppies and dogs that are lost, abandoned or given up by families no longer able to care for their pets.

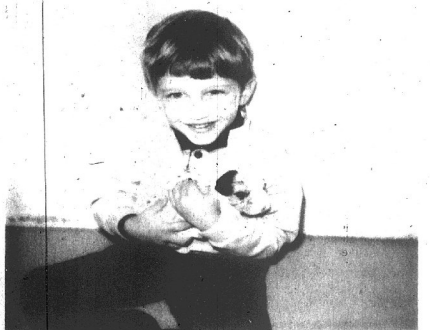

Most shelter dogs are homeless animals, not rough strays—and they could make someone a great pet.

The Granite City APA Shelter has an appealing selection of bright-eyed, tail-wagging, healthy dogs in need of homes, including the all-American mutt, puppies and older dogs, which have been abandoned by a former owner, a spokesman said. These dogs make good companions for people and families of all ages and lifestyles.

Adopting animals can also leave the owner with a good feeling inside, because he or she knows that the pet will now have a good home, it was said.

During October, new dog owners will also take home a special reward for being good to a dog—a complimentary doggie bag, which contains free cans of dog food and dog treats for their new pet.

A dog's need are fairly simple, but an owner must realize that a pet is a responsibility that will be with him for an average of 10 to 12 years.

SPECIAL MONTH. This month, National Adopt-A-Dog Month, the Granite City APA Shelter is hoping to increase its adoptions of dogs, like the one shown above, being held by Nick Zoril of Granite City. Dogs make good pets for youngsters and older persons alike. Persons adopting a dog during October will receive a complimentary doggie bag, complete with cans of food and dog treats. A wide selection of dogs are in need of a good home at the shelter, located at 5000 Old Alton Road.

A dog owner's job includes exercising the pet, feeding, grooming and regular check-ups with the proper inoculations to keep the dog healthy.

The Granite City APA Shelter is hoping to increase adoptions during this nationwide effort and invites all dog lovers to come and see the selection of puppies and dogs available for adoption.

The shelter would also like to encourage all interested persons to get on the mailing list of the group and receive their monthly newsletter. Persons interested may call the shelter at 831-7030, during regular hours.

Shelter hours are Mondays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 5 to 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 10 a.m. to noon; Fridays, 12-4 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and Sundays, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

DAMAGE TRUCK TIRES

Four tires were damaged on a 1983 Ford pickup truck owned by Douglas Becker, 2158 Cleveland Blvd., he reported during the weekend.

Park to offer gymnastics

The Granite City Park District has announced that winter tumbling and gymnastics classes will begin on Oct. 22, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center. This program is for participants in grades 1 thru 12. There is a class size limit set at 75 per class. Classes are free to park district residents with a Park ID or proof of residence. The non-resident fee is $10 per child. Registration for this class will be on Monday, Oct. 15, from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

Beginners classes will meet Mondays and Thursdays from 5 to 6 p.m., followed by advanced beginner from 6 to 7 p.m.

Intermediates will meet Mondays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m., followed by advanced intermediates from 8 to 9 p.m.

Advanced classes are from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays.

School bus service changes ownership

The Madison School Board was officially informed last week that the bus company that services the district has changed ownership.

In a letter to the board, R.W. Harmon and Sons, Inc., President Robert E. Harmon said that the company had been sold to Mayflower Corporation of Indianapolis, Ind.

"Our decision was not an easy one and was reached only after we were convinced that Mayflower share the same basic philosophy adopted by our father in 1946 and continued through many years of operation," Harmon stated. "They are dedicated to providing the safest and best possible transportation at an affordable cost."

Harmon's letter also indicated that no immediate changes in operation were anticipated, and that all management personnel will remain in place.

In other business last week, the school board approved the school district's yearly fall enrollment and housing report.

Superintendent John Palcheli says approximately 1,400 students are enrolled in the Madison school system.

PICKUP DRIVER HURT

Mrs. Jeanette E. Barr, 50, of 721 Fourth St., Venice, was injured during the weekend when she drove a pickup truck from a parking area in the 1800 block of Edison Avenue, lost control of the vehicle and struck the Koch Building at 1821 Edison Ave. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Comptroller reports insurance problems

Granite City's comptroller, Joe Miklovic, reported to city council members last week about a problem concerning a cancelled contract with Arthur J. Gallagher Company. The company had been working as an independent contractor, handling workmen compensation claims.

According to Miklovic, the city signed a three-year contract with the company, which was to cost the city $18,000 a year. After the first year, the insurance company billed the city for the $18,000, plus an additional amount which was to cover attorney's fees for the lawyers the company hired to represent the city.

The additional amount was paid by the city under protest. In light of the charge, city officials investigated other insurance companies. They believed that the city could be better served through Illinois Municipal League insurance, so they cancelled their contract with Arthur J. Gallagher.

The city then received a letter from the Gallagher insurance company which said they would handle all of the city's outstanding cases (about 20) if the city will pay them $200 a case. This also is in addition to their yearly fee.

Miklovic said Gallagher also sent him a memo requesting that the city pay its fee for the third year of the contract, even though the third year of the contract has not begun. Miklovic suggested that the matter be turned over to the city attorney, to explore legal action against the company.

City Attorney John Papa said city's position on the matter would be that Gallagher's insurance company violated their contract when they charged the city for attorney fees. This was an attempt to modify the agreement after it already was signed.

According to Papa, if the company is found to have violated their end of the contract, the city might be liable for paying the third year of the contract.

WOMAN GRABS PURSE OFF TAVERN TABLE

Debra Terrell of Venice told police this week that a woman grabbed her purse from a table and fled through a rear door at the El Capatzen Lounge, 800 Jackson St., Madison. Two other women and two men, who were with the thief, also immediately left the tavern, she said. The purse contained $200 cash and two books of food stamps, each worth $65, police were advised.

Candidates for auditor

ARTHUR PETE FIELDS
County auditor

MICHAEL McNAMEE
Auditor candidate

Fields, McNamee citing their auditing experience

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Auditor rivals in Madison County balloting Tuesday, Nov. 6, are the incumbent, Democrat Arthur Pete Fields, Glen Carbon, and the challenger, Republican Michael B. McNamee Sr., Alton.

A lifelong Madison County and former local resident, Fields, 37, is completing a four-year elective term as county auditor and also served in the office the previous year by appointment.

THE OFFICIAL is experienced in internal auditing, budgeting, salary control, departmental management, and systems development and implementation.

Fields formerly was personnel manager and operational auditor for the Automobile Club of Missouri. A member of St. Cecilia's Church, he also is active in many fraternal, civic and veterans' groups.

FIELDS COMMENTS: "During the past four years, I have modernized the auditor's office and the entire accounting system for the county government."

"Through a businesslike approach and fiscal responsiveness, I have sought to help the county avoid the kinds of severe cutbacks in governmental services that many municipalities and other governmental units have experienced."

Supporters credit him with "keeping a tight rein" on the budget and pointing out practical ways of reducing expenses in all phases of county government.

A VIETNAM WAR veteran, serving with the First Infantry Division, Fields is married and has two children.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and has taken additional courses in marketing and finance at SIUE as well as doing postgraduate study at Sangamon State University.

McNamee was not a candidate for auditor in the March primary but was chosen later to be the Republican standard-bearer by a candidate panel of the Madison County Republican Central Committee.

A CERTIFIED public accountant, McNamee heads an Alton accounting firm. He is married and has eight children.

The candidate has a master of science degree in taxation from Southeastern University, Washington, D.C., as well as an associate degree in business and an SIUE bachelor of science degree in accounting.

McNamee is a member of the Alton, Lions, St. Mary's Church, Knights of Columbus and Alton Chamber of Commerce, serving the Chamber as an ambassador.

HE GRADUATED in 1959 from St. Paul High School, Highland.

A property owner, he notes that he has both governmental and business experience.

McNamee, if elected, is pledging "efficiency and economy in county administration" and "equal representation for all citizens of our county."

Good start for United Way drive

Eric Robertson, general chairman of the 1984 fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, beamed with optimism as he announced the progress of the fund drive at the second report meeting

Baton twirling lessons offered

Basic lessons in baton twirling will be given by the Granite City Park District every Tuesday beginning Oct. 23. The classes meet from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

This program is for children in grades 1 through 6. Registration will be taken at the Wilson Park Office prior to the beginning of class.

No fee is charged to park district residents showing a park ID card or other proof of residency. A $10 non-resident fee must be paid at time of registration.

MEDICARE UPDATE SET

The public is being invited to "Medicare Update" Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville. In an effort to present the latest information on Medicare and answer questions regarding policies and procedure, the University of Illinois Extension Service will host Al Scheve, field representative for the Social Security Administration. Anyone having Medicare insurance or who is the spouse, son or daughter of someone that does, may want to attend this session to learn up-to-the-minute information, a spokesman said.

late last week. Pointing to the fact that this year's drive is well ahead of last year's campaign, he announced a total of $246,533 in pledges to date, or 39 percent of the $630,000 goal set for the 1984 U.W. drive. This is 9 percent and $45,000 ahead of last year's totals at the halfway mark in the campaign. This year's goal was set at 7 percent over the actual monies collected during the 1983 campaign.

GROUP REPORTS at the meeting also were optimistic, as Joni and Drew Karandjoff, co-chairmen of Group A, private donors, business and commercial, reported pledges of $45,381 or 57 percent of that group's goal of $79,750.

Group B, professions and non-profit agencies and organizations, headed by Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, reached 48 percent of its goal. She announced pledge totals to date of $27,420. Group B has a goal of $56,750.

Al Hudzik, chairman of Group C, government employees, schools and service clubs, announced his group's pledge total of $15,300 or 37 percent of that group's goal of $41,500.

ROBERTSON announced the Group D totals at the meeting. J.R. "Jack" Farney, the Group D chairman, was unable to attend the report luncheon. Of its $450,000 goal, Group D has received pledges of $157,432 or 35 percent. Group D, industry, construction and transportation, is responsible for more than 71 percent of the entire 1984 campaign.

The majority of Group D pledges are usually reported during the latter part of campaign, due to in-house solicitation efforts at various plants and businesses.

Prior to the group reports and Robertson's campaign report to date, one of two locally produced United Way videos was viewed by the group attending the afternoon luncheon at the Community Club on the Granite City Army Installation.

THE VIDEOS were taped and produced by St. Elizabeth Medical Center for the United Way and feature many local community leaders, staff members of United Way agencies, and Robertson.

A special project to aid the current U.W. campaign was announced by Shirley Adams, special projects chairman and vice chairman of the 1984 drive.

A shish kebabs luncheon at Tony and Joe's Tavern, Third Street and Madison Avenue, is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 18, beginning at 10:30 a.m. and continuing throughout the afternoon.

FOOD AND drinks are being provided free to the public by Tony and Joe's and Schermer's Supermarket. All donations received during the day-long event will go to the United Way fall campaign.

The next report luncheon of the United Way will be Friday, Oct. 19, at the Community Club.

Two men injured in one-car crash

Two passengers were injured in a one-car accident that occurred early this week on Route 203 at Bend Road. The driver of the car was Steven W. McCormick, 25, of 1931 Third St., Madison.

Passengers injured were Paul Younger, 28, of 1234 Madison Ave., Madison, and Michael J. Fakkett, 46, of 2153 Edison Ave. Both men were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and admitted. Younger was listed in stable condition and Fakkett is listed in good condition.

Passengers not injured were Richard Fuller, 21, and Philip Fuller, 24, both of Madison.

According to Illinois State Police troopers, McCormick's vehicle was northbound on Route 203, when the left front tire on the car blew out. McCormick lost control of the vehicle and the car went over the median and overturned in the southbound lane.

RUNAWAY TURTLE HELD AT LOCAL FIRE STATION
Firemen at West Granite Fire Station, 2700 Rock Road, have reported the capture of a box turtle last weekend. Fireman Skip Marcum says that the turtle is under suspicion as a "runaway" because of some distinguishing marks.

Marcum says the turtle's shell has the name "Dave" and has an undecipherable telephone number on it.

"We'd like to make sure it gets back to the boy," Marcum commented, adding that the owner may claim the turtle by contacting the fire station.

The spotlight for freedom

Close your eyes and imagine a sightless world. A world where you couldn't see what was going on around you. And without knowing what was ahead of you—or behind you!

This week, National Newspaper Week, celebrates the press's role in "lighting freedom's way" by helping the public see and understand what is going on around them. By spotlighting important events, the press daily turns on the lights so citizens can know what is happening that affects them and can make the important decisions necessary to keep a free society functioning properly.

Without newspapers providing in-depth coverage of our government, our schools and colleges, our lifestyles, we would be forced to depend upon the brief "capsulized" news provided by the electronic media. Walter Cronkite once said that Americans get as much news in a half-hour television newscast as they get in one and one-half columns in a newspaper. The electronic media could not adequately serve the public's need to know what is happening to affect everyone's lives.

One of the major differences between a free nation and a closed country is a free press. In a free nation with a controlled press, the public learns only what the government wants it to know and remains in the dark about other important developments, including international relations which could have vast effects on their income, security and lifestyles. America is the shining example to the world of how a free and uncontrolled press can give citizens open access to what is happening in their governments and their communities.

We invite you to keep the lights on and celebrate National Newspaper Week with us. Newspapers are, indeed, "lighting freedom's way."

Extent of students' rights

Quand-Extents and all Americans should be watching a case before the U.S. Supreme Court to determine the rights of students in the public schools.

The court is considering a 1983 decision by the New Jersey Supreme Court that protects students and their property from unreasonable search and seizure under the Fourth Amendment.

"Basically," the New Jersey court ruled that students' purses and lockers are protected from searches and are a kind of "home away from home" for the students.

The decision overlooks the rights of the good students who may become the victims of weapons or drugs others may safely keep in their lockers without fear of discovery by school officials. We think it is important that the Supreme Court considers the rights of all of the students when ruling in this matter. School lockers should be considered school property, subject to occasional search by school administrators when they have reason to suspect that the lockers contain weapons, drugs or other material which could be harmful to the general student body's safety or could adversely affect an atmosphere in the schools conducive to learning.

Heritage Days at Lewis and Clark College

The Fifth Annual "Heritage Days" on the Goshen Trail will be held Oct. 13 and 14, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The location for this year's festival is Lewis and Clark Community College, on Route 67 and 111, in Godfrey, Ill.

With this new location, parking will be on paved areas; while the festival will be in a wooded setting, thus adding a touch of realism to the authentic re-creation of 1700-1840. Also, due to the larger site, the festival can offer more crafts, foods, and entertainment.

As in the past, all traditional craftsmen and food booths will be demonstrating and selling their wares, using only the materials and methods available during 1700-1840. All foods served are from authentic recipes and are cooked over open fires. Everyone participating must wear traditional clothing of the period.

There is continuous entertainment presented all day, which will include puppets, fire and drum, bag pipes, magician, dulcimer, craft demonstrations, more. The Piasa Black Powder Burners will give shooting demonstrations; there will be a style show to explain the clothing worn by the more than 600 craftsmen, food vendors, entertainers, soldiers, Indians, and volunteers who help make Heritage Days, a fun step back into the past.

Bowling on the Green and Pumpkin Rolling are some of the free games anyone can try.

There is an extensive children's Hands-On-Learning area where for 25 cents they are taught to make a Johnny Cake, God's Eye, wash wool, weave, dip a candle, and write with a quill pen. The items that they make and take home will become childhood treasures. There are also special free games for the children to participate in such as tug of war, corn shelling, and sack races.

There also will be colonial church services on Sunday at 8 a.m. and everyone is invited.

The purpose of Heritage Days is to educate the general public in the customs, manners, methods, tools, clothing, foods and equipment used by the early settlers of Southern Illinois, in their daily lives. Craftsmen and entertainers will be glad to explain the methods of making their craft, instrument or food.

Admission at the gate is $2 for adults, $1 for students, 5-18, advance tickets are $1.50 for adults, 50-cents for students.

their 50s or 60s who have worked all of their lives thinking that their home was their "nest egg"?

How will they feel if they wake up some morning and find that their $50 thousand home is now worth $20 thousand?

I hope the Press-Record will take an active role in support of the school bond issue, and I believe the people of Granite City will willingly support a tax increase if they are convinced that:

1. They are insuring a quality education for children.
2. Their tax dollars are needed and won't be wasted.
3. They are protecting the value of their property.

COMMENTS PAPER FOR AIDING HOMELESS ANIMALS

To the Editor:
I have been a regular reader of the Press-Record for 40 years or more. I lived in Granite for many years before I moved here, so it is more like home to me.

You have a new feature that I like very much, the pictures of those orphaned "Adopt Me," that is special. I watch for it in every paper. Many of those helpless animals have found good homes because of you. Keep up the good work.

Urges support for U.S. social programs

To the Editor:

I recently received a letter from James Roosevelt, son of the late great President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, urging I support him in any way I can to save our Social Security system and Medicare payments.

If you are on Social-Security or Medicare or you have parents that are now eligible, or soon will be, then I want to ask you to write Sen. Charles H. Percy, Sen. Alan J. Dixon and Congressman Mel Price and tell them that you feel every commitment to Americans who qualify for Social Security and Medicare benefits be kept and urge the Congress of the United States to take no action which would be destructive to either program, now or in the future.

If my friends can, I would also like to encourage them to write James Roosevelt, 1300 Nineteenth St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20038 and send a check made out to NCFSSM (National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare). If you can't send a check for $10 or $25, then write and ask young Roosevelt for a petition to sign and send to Congress.

Medicare and Social Security was started by FDR to help the people get along. We need to get behind James Roosevelt and keep these programs.

Dislikes election night national polls

To the Editor:

In a recent newscast, it was reported that in the 1980 election, NBC predicted the election of Ronald Reagan hours before the polls closed in California and Hawaii. We now have a situation in which various polls are predicting the re-election of President Reagan by a landslide.

I do not know how many people participate in these polls, but I am sure that it is a very limited number, possibly not more than a few thousand out of a voting population of many millions.

If these polls are as accurate as they estimate, why should we then hold a presidential election at all? Since it is the American way that we want to be counted with a predicted winner, many voters will be influenced by the polls and follow like so many sheep. They will not be considering the historical facts of what has taken place in the past four years, nor will they listen and understand the positions of the candidates.

Our system will have become no better than what takes place in Russia, nor what happened in Nazi Germany. Our president will have been chosen by a very small minority, who will have been influenced by whoever has the best financial propaganda machine.

Police union irked at alderman's quote

To the Editor,

In reference to comments attributed to Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, we, the members of AFSCME Local 1347, take this opportunity to respond to said comments.

To the best of our knowledge, the police local has never written a letter to be published in any paper concerning remarks made by any city official, but enough is enough!

Specifically, we are referring to the remarks that Ms. Perjak has made concerning "quick negotiation." First of all, let's straighten out the facts.

The police department's last raise in pay was awarded March 1, 1982, and that was 1 percent, average increase being $16.04 a month.

The police department has been without a contract since April 30, 1982, and has been negotiating since January 1982, and finally settled in September 1982, continuing to work to the best of our abilities during that time period.

We have negotiated with three different city negotiating committees, one of which Ms. Perjak was a member, and the second she was the chairperson. During financial problems the city was having, we agreed to "bite the bullet" with an oral promise to have a raise the following year, which verbal agreement Ms. Perjak denies.

All city departments continued to work without a contract during the 2½ years of negotiations without disruption of services. However, Ms. Perjak is not happy, negotiations were too quick, "quickest she has ever seen year, which verbal agreement?" It should also be noted that the police department has experienced the layoffs of four dispatchers, causing four policemen to be taken off the street and put on desk duty, and one patrolman that has never been replaced.

We, the members of AFSCME Local 1347, know this has been the LONGEST NEGOTIATIONS EVER. The contracts could only be settled after Sharon Perjak was no longer a member of the city negotiating committee. How can she ask for support of labor in her bid for re-election?

Ms. Perjak, we of Granite City Police Department, AFSCME Local 1347, our families and friends are taxpayers citizens, constituents of your ward and registered voters.

YOU WILL NOT GET SUPPORT IN YOUR RE-ELECTION BID FROM OUR UNION.

3 good reasons to vote 'Yes' on schools

To the Editor:

A few years ago, my wife and I purchased a home in Granite City at a partially inflated price. We are happy with our home in our neighborhood and hope to raise our son in a financially healthy town with a stable school system.

We had no reservation in paying the inflated price for our home because real estate has always been a good investment in Granite City.

Like most industrial towns, Granite City will probably never be a scenic "story book" type town, but it has always been a good place to earn a living and raise a family. The residents are friendly, hardworking, and progressive people who, until a few years ago, had never voted down a bond issue.

In the near future, we will be asked to approve another small tax increase for our schools which will amount to less than $100 per year for most households.

My wife and I plan to vote "Yes" for the school bond issue for two reasons: First, we want our son to have a good education. Second, we finance so many of our needs in Granite City and take a loss on the sale of our home.

In the event that we are forced to sell our home at a rate below normal market value, we are probably young enough to suffer the financial loss, start over, and recover satisfactorily. What about people in ment for troop use. Proceeds also support council staff services.

Our girls benefit in so many ways from the Girl Scout Cookie Sale. Besides the troop proceeds we use to purchase materials for our activities, girls learn how to meet the public and sell a product. They learn self-confidence and develop a sense of responsibility. They also feel proud about doing a good job.

So when a Girl Scout comes knocking at your door, won't you show your support?

MS Society plans luncheon meeting

Progress in research toward a cure for multiple sclerosis, a disabling disease that strikes young adults, will be reported at the 1984 Annual Meeting and Public Luncheon of the Multiple Sclerosis (MS) Society. The event will be conducted from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Radisson St. Louis Hotel on Ninth Street at Convention Plaza in downtown St. Louis.

The meeting will feature a morning discussion by Dr. Robert Slater, medical director of the National MS Society in New York, which supervises research projects on the disease that afflicts the brain and spinal cord. Slater will describe the results of the society's latest work and tell how it affects those who suffer with multiple sclerosis.

Byron Welch, president and founding trustee of the Houston Community Foundation and an inspirational speaker, will be guest speaker at the program luncheon. Welch is also chairman and president of Welch Associates, Inc., a Houston-based international fund-raising firm. In the afternoon, a panel of experts will answer questions about the disease.

An added feature of the meeting will be the presentation of the society's annual community service awards. This year's recipients are the Kroger Company and 56-KUSA Radio. Both corporations are being honored for their efforts in the fight against MS.

Reservations and contributions toward the cost of the luncheon may be made by sending a check for $6 to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, St. Louis Area Chapter, 915 Olive St., Suite 815, St. Louis, Mo. 63101.

Expect 300 at event feting Mayor Echols

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Roland W. Burris, Illinois state comptroller, will deliver the principal address at the testimonial dinner honoring Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, which is scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, at the new Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, Klein and Brown streets, Venice.

More than 300 friends of the Venice mayor have secured reservations for the event, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, organizer.

Tickets, costing $5 each, still may be obtained from Rev. Williams, at 452-5124, or from Charles Collins, dinner chairman, at 451-2132.

State Senator Kenneth Hall (D-East St. Louis) will introduce Burris, a Democrat, who was re-elected as state comptroller in 1982.

A resident of Chicago, Burris is a lawyer and former director of the Illinois Department of General Services.

He also ran a strong race for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate in the March primary election, but lost to Congressman Paul Simon. Simon will oppose incumbent U.S. Senator Charles Percy in the Nov. 6 general election.

At Saturday's dinner, remarks will be offered by State Senator Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville.

Serving as keynoter and emcee for the program will be East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer. He will be introduced by Madison Fourth Ward Alderman Don Garrett.

A musical interlude will be presented by soloist Venita Dew of Venice and a singing ensemble also will provide entertainment, Rev. Williams said.

Mayor Echols will be introduced to the assembled guests by Mayor Riley Owens of Centerville.

A resident of Venice for 42 years, the Venice mayor is a past president of the Illinois Chapter of the National Council of Black Mayors and is the current chairman of a special caucus of black elected officials, which was organized in the area last June.

Echols ran unopposed for his first four year term of office as mayor in April 1981, having previously served as the community's top elected official since April 1979.

He served for six years as Fourth Ward alderman in Venice prior to assuming the duties of mayor. He and his wife are the parents of three children.

Circuit Court action productive in August

Even though it was vacation time and a no-jury month, August was productive for the Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties), according to Madison Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

Portell's monthly report to the Supreme Court Administrative Office shows 5,045 cases were filed, and 4,914 cases were terminated during August.

In releasing the report, Portell noted, "There was a very significant gain in large law cases where 43 were filed, 31 transferred and 96 terminated during the month, which is very significant, due to the fact that there were no jury trials during this month. There was a loss of currency in divorce, where 174 were filed and 135 terminated. There was a slight loss in other categories such as family, felony and misdemeanor. The traffic statistics stayed stationary in filing and terminations," Portell noted.

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of August.

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000
Jury	43	96	1820
Non-jury	79	22	545
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000
Jury	3	7	307
Non-jury	54	23	532
Other cases
Chancery	37	27	527
Miscellaneous Remedy	24	28	504
Eminent Domain	0	0	59
Mental Health	40	53	5
Divorce	174	135	1074
Family	130	95	2137
Juvenile	42	43	315
Felony	70	64	279
Misdemeanor	472	324	3347
Small Claims	439	566	2832
Totals	1,607	1,483	14,283

In the traffic division, 2,940 new cases were filed during August and 2,901 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 72 felony cases heard during the month, 51 were convicted of felonies, 11 were dismissed or transferred on a motion of the defendant, eight were dismissed or consolidated and two were discharged during the preliminary hearing because of no probable cause.

Guilty pleas during August included one for murder, one for Class X felonies, seven for Class One felonies, 15 for Class Two felonies, 19 for Class Three felonies and eight for Class Four felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included 23 persons sent to prisons, 16 receiving probation with periodic imprisonment and 12 receiving probations or conditional discharges with other conditions.

CAT RESPIRATORY DISEASE

Feline respiratory disease is highly contagious to unprotected cats and should be of major concern to every cat owner. It is one of the most frequently occurring problems that can affect your cat and can result in serious illness or, in some cases, death.

Since respiratory disease can be caused by any of several organisms, symptoms may vary from mild coughing and sneezing to a sometimes fatal pneumonia. Runny eyes, and nose, fever, depression, lack of appetite, and ulcers of the mouth and tongue may also be indications of a respiratory disease. If your cat shows any of these symptoms, you should consult your veterinarian immediately. Through laboratory tests, he or she can make a positive diagnosis.

However, prevention is really the best step to take against these diseases. Vaccines are now available which can protect healthy kittens against some of the major causes of feline respiratory disease. The best age to begin vaccination is about nine weeks of age with subsequent vaccinations as necessary. An annual booster is recommended for all cats.

Radiological material handling course set

The Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, in cooperation with the Granite City Police Department and the Granite City Safety Department, will sponsor a one-day training class on "Handling of Radiological Materials," it was announced today by Victor H. Koenig, Granite City ESDA coordinator.

A minimum of 20 students is required for the course to be taught by state instructors, he said.

The class will take place from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 25, at the Madison Fire Hall, 1529 Third St., Madison.

The instruction is designed for emergency personnel who will be first on the scene of an incident involving hazardous materials, Koenig advised.

Students will learn what actions to take to minimize personal injury, protection against radiological hazards, which agencies to notify for assistance and the correct reporting procedures, it was explained. Law enforcement, fire and emergency personnel are strongly urged to take part in this course, Koenig said.

Local authorities and officials who would need to cooperate in obtaining emergency assistance, or those required to issue media statements also are being encouraged to participate.

The information received through the class will be beneficial to our community and neighboring communities, it was noted.

Letters have been mailed to many agencies and those wishing to attend are requested to return their application this week, or call 877-3157 between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. for additional information.

There is no charge to participants and lunch will be served on the premises, Koenig noted. He added that Madison Fire Chief Mike Mack arranged use of the department's facility for the classroom sessions.

New administrator for senior training

Dan Churovich, program administrator for the Madison County Employment and Training Department, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Velma Lay to the position of counselor for older workers with the department. In this newly-created position, Mrs. Lay will be responsible for all counseling, training, and re-training of persons 55 and older who meet the eligibility requirements of the federally-funded Job Training Partnership Act in Madison and Bond counties.

Churovich said Mrs. Lay has more than 18 years experience in various public service counseling and job development capacities. In addition, she has taught school for several years. We anticipate her experience and qualifications will be most beneficial to older workers having need of the program's services.

Mrs. Lay, a grandmother and wife of a retired steelworker, says she feels she can identify with the senior segment of our community and can help them to overcome the employment barriers they face.

The Older Workers program comes under the Job Training Partnership Act created by Congress in 1982. The Act (JTPA) is designed to train and assist the economically disadvantaged in obtaining initial employment. The program is governed locally by the Madison-Bond County Private Industry Council, composed of community leaders, in cooperation with the board chairmen of Madison and Bond counties.

Interested Madison County residents may contact their nearest Job Service Office in Alton, Edwardsville or Granite City or call 1-602-6200, extension 445, for application information.

Judges seek retention

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Quad-Cityans will consider the retention or rejection of three judges in the Nov. 6 election: Circuit Judge William E. Johnson and Appellate Judges Charles E. Jones and John M. Karns Jr.

Johnson, completing a six-year Third Circuit term, seeks another. The two Fifth District appellate judges, finishing 10-year terms, seek retention for another 10 years. Sixty percent approval is needed among those who vote on the issue.

ALL THREE ARE RUNNING on a non-partisan basis without a ballot opponent, although Johnson stood with other candidates as Democrats opened the fall headquarters at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center on Sept. 27.

Initial judicial terms have partisan connotations. Johnson was elected as a Democrat in 1978. His party dominates the list of eight elected circuit judges and 10 appointed appellate judges.

A former Republican and former Granite Cityan now residing in Glen Carbon, Johnson is regarded as an effective vote-getter in his campaign contacts with citizens. He considers himself to be independent, "tough" and fair in his judicial decisions.

Johnson, 53, was appointed as one of four magistrates in Madison County in 1965. He was a magistrate and then an associate judge for a combined total of 12 years.

IN 1974 HE RAN unsuccessfully for circuit judge. He failed to be reappointed as an associate judge in 1975, ran for state's attorney in early 1976 and withdrew from that campaign upon being named to a newly-created associate judgeship.

Born on a farm and the son of a coal miner, Johnson has held nearly every type of judicial assignment and has presided at various times in Granite City, Madison, Venice, Collinsville, Highland, Edwardsville, Wood River and Alton.

He attended Blackburn College, Shurtleff College, Washington University and Southern Illinois University and graduated from the St. Louis University Law School. His occupations have included miner, sheet steel worker, glass worker, traffic manager, adjuster and Army paratrooper.

HE PRACTICED LAW in Granite City and Collinsville and taught business law at SIU. Never one who could be called pompous, he posed in a 1978 campaign picture with his wife, their two daughters, two pet dogs, a pet cat and a pet donkey.

Judge Johnson says he gets along well with both Democrats and Republicans, including lawyers. An exception is State's Attorney Don W. Weber, a Republican, who became displeased with the way Johnson handled criminal cases during part of 1983. Weber adopted a policy of seeking transfers from Johnson's court.

In an earlier murder trial, Johnson threw out some of the evidence and then agreed to a mistrial request so that the prosecutor could appeal. The Fifth Appellate District later ruled it was improper for the judge to consider an evidence dismissal motion after the trial had started.

Johnson thinks Republicans may be "playing the odds" in making retention "a partisan matter and a political football."

NEVERTHELESS, the Republican chairman in Madison County, Dr. Edward Ragsdale, has assailed Johnson as unfit and has urged "no" votes.

Ragsdale claims Johnson has non-judicial character and has shown favoritism to attorneys who contribute to Democratic campaigns.

Johnson says Ragsdale seems to be openly inviting a future anti-retention campaign against a Collinsville Republican appellate judge, Thomas Welch. But Johnson adds that he has no "political axes to grind."

The physician does admit to a political concern: his party has been shut out of judicial posts although representing 40 percent of the public in Madison County.

JUDGE JONES, 59, was a McLeansboro circuit judge when he sought to run in 1970 for the Fifth District seat on the Illinois Supreme Court. At the time, he cited his 15 years of experience as a trial court judge, having served as a county judge, associate judge, circuit judge, chief judge and acting appellate judge.

A graduate of the University of Illinois and its Law School, he was an appellate judge by appointment from 1971 to 1974 and was elected in 1974 to the Fifth District post, a 37-county jurisdiction.

After serving in the "Army Air Corps from 1942 to 1945, he practiced law from 1950 to 1954. He and his wife became the parents of a son and daughter.

JUDGE KARNS, 56, Belleville, also attended the University of Illinois and then the Harvard University Law School.

He was the senior member of the Karns, Starnes, Nester and Stegmeyer law firm when elected as an appellate judge 10 years ago. Karns began his law practice in 1953 and held the office of St. Clair County state's attorney for two four-year terms, 1960-68.

Attorneys Morris B. Chapman and Jon G. Carlson were accused this year of professional misconduct for allegedly hiring a private investigator in 1978 to conduct undercover surveillance of Judge Karns' evening activities. The attorneys deny any misconduct.

THE INVESTIGATOR is said to have been hired on the same day arguments were heard by Karns and other Fifth District justices on the appeal of a case in which a client of the Chapman-Carlson firm had been awarded a $1,500,000 verdict.

A 35-page report of the surveillance was forwarded to the state court administrative director. Its contents have not been divulged, and Karns denies any impropriety.

No Illinois Supreme Court justice from this district is up for retention this year.

ROBERT UNDERWOOD, 68, Bloomington, who was the chief justice from 1969 to 1975, has announced plans to resign from the Supreme Court Dec. 31, 1984. A Fourth District successor will be elected this year.

The senior member of the top state court, Underwood has served there for the past 32 years. He was last retained by voters in 1980 for a 10-year term.

A vigorous and sometimes bitter campaign has developed between Democrat James Craven and Republican Ben Miller. The Fourth District includes Macoupin, Jersey, Greene and Calhoun counties.

Officers dispersed the crowd and were attempting to talk to individuals when David P. Napierala Jr., 23, of 2107 S. Alexander Ave., allegedly began yelling and screaming and was advised to be quiet.

He cursed and screamed at officers, challenging them to fight and, when held by police, he pulled away and pushed the officer, it was alleged. Napierala was arrested and, enroute to police headquarters allegedly made threats. He was charged with aggravated assault, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Meanwhile, at the same location, a Granite City woman told police she was going from a tavern across the street to a parked truck when two women followed her and allegedly struck her about the face and body.

The woman's daughter came to her aid and attempted to pull off the attackers, but they knocked the daughter to the ground, she alleged to police.

Charged in this incident with two counts each of battery were Patsy L. Hays, 44, of 1620 Sycamore Ave., and Pamela E. Hays, 18, of Dallas, Texas. Both women were released a few hours later after each posted a $202 cash bond.

School funds

Brochures prepared by Citizens for Continued Education, in coordination with Supt. Kraus and the school district staff, were distributed at the board meeting.

Urging that Citizens vote "Yes," Nov. 6, the pamphlets ask, "Which way for our schools and our community? Yes for quality or no for desperation?"

"OUR SCHOOLS and our community need our help," Citizens for Continued Education assert.

"Granite City School District is $7.6 million in debt. This debt is increasing because of the cost of borrowing money to keep our schools open. The interest charged on that money costs our district $800,000 each year.

"The reasons: State and federal revenues to our schools have decreased. Local revenues to our schools have decreased.

"We have not passed a school tax increase in our community since 1969. Operational costs, with the help of 15 years of inflation, have finally overtaken our schools."

"THE REMEDY: The 40-cent bond issue will pay off $6.6 million of the debt and will be retired in 10 years. The 40-cent education fund rate increase will pay off the remainder of the present debt."

"These issues will not pay for any improvements. They will merely allow our schools to maintain the status quo."

"We all know that with every privilege there is a responsibility."

"WITH THE PRIVILEGE of living in our solid, stable community, it is the responsibility of maintaining the cornerstone of that community—the schools."

"The additional yearly cost for the homeowner of the average home in our community would be $100. However, a sizeable portion of that $100 would be returned via an itemized income tax credit."

"With an income tax bracket of 30 percent, your cost would be $70; 40 percent bracket, $80; or 50 percent bracket, your cost would be $90."

"IF YOU WOULD LIKE to have your exact cost for these issues figured, call Mr. Von Dee Cruse's office at 877-4150."

"If we fail to support our schools, we must be willing to accept the consequences. Those consequences chart a path of desperation and decline for our schools and our community."

"They are, however, the consequences prescribed by state law."

"IF WE FAIL to support our schools on Nov. 6, the future is clear: The school budget will not balance."

"The School Board, in an attempt to hold off state control, will be forced to make drastic cuts in all programs."

"The budget will still not be balanced and the state will be forced to take control of our schools."

"OUR DISTRICT will be divided up among area districts, and portions of our students might be assigned to those districts."

"Students from those school districts will be bused into what are now Granite City schools. Our high school would no longer be Granite City High School; rather, it could be named after another district."

"Our schools and our community would never be the same."

"We have listed the facts in this flyer, but we all know when it gets right down to each of us standing alone in the voting booth—our hearts will decide."

"IN OUR HEARTS, all of us know what is right; we know what is just. The facts state that our schools and our community need our help."

"Our hearts tell us—that, without our schools, there is no community."

"The temptation is to argue over who is to blame. We agree that it is not only a right but a responsibility of every citizen to insist that school matters be run wisely."

"However, as one of our citizens said, 'We must pause in our arguing over who put the hole in the bottom of the boat. If our schools and our community are to survive, we must start talking together.'"

"Please vote yes for our schools and our community," the brochure concludes.

DEWEY MELTON of the board committee has received "positive feedback" at the meetings where he has spoken on the school election, with only scattered negative responses.

Supt. Kraus recalled giving three talks and noting a similar feeling—most of the listeners were positive about supporting the proposals, and one or two were unsure at this time.

Pres. Partney agreed that the presentations are persuasive and stressed that many voters have not yet been contacted.

"We have a long way to go" in reaching all of the public with the explanation of school needs, he said in urging intensive campaign efforts in the next several weeks.

hours a day for assessment hearings and other work, expanding its effectiveness, enlargement of the board might also have been wise, Miss Bowles said.

Despite her concerns over computers, they are allowing much more work to be done much faster, she commented. She thinks this has been the key to her staff's ability to cope with the increased duties placed on it by each new state legislative session.

She said there are 48 ballot configurations next month, taking into account differing boundary lines and precinct limits. This greatly complicates rulings on where a person should vote and which issues and offices should appear on his or her ballot.

DUTIES OF HER OFFICE were listed as including payroll, retirement, hospitalization, filing of tax returns, computation of all tax rates, determination of assessed valuation and conducting all elections at the 221 precincts.

"The post-election tasks overlap, resulting in never-ending election responsibilities, Miss Bowles said.

"The ruling staff is far along with plans for February primaries and April 1985 local-level elections."

FOUR SATELLITE vote tabulating centers have been created, linked to a central computer, to speed election-night data and official canvasses, it was related.

Although breakdowns still can occur, the system includes ways to cross-check results and is virtually "fail-safe," the club was told.

Attorney Leon Scroggins introduced the speaker.

THE CLUB DECIDED to sponsor attendance by four Granite City High School students at an Operation Snowball drug abuse information workshop.

Miss Maria Victoria of Columbia, a Rotary exchange student attending Granite City High School, was honored on her 17th birthday.

The Wilson Park swimming pool election Nov. 6 will be the topic of the October prayer breakfast.

Horse Racing Act of 1975.

Mehelic told reporters he had to sell his horses so his son because of the stewards' ruling.

THIS POSES an economic deprivation for him, and prevents him from helping to improve horse breeding in the state, he said.

DUI CHARGED AFTER ACCIDENT ON ROUTE 3

Phyllis E. Cane, 40, of 2125 Dawn Ave., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, not having a valid driver's license and failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection following a weekend accident at Route 3 and Rock Road.

Mrs. Cane's vehicle was east-bound on Rock Road when it was involved in a collision with an auto operated by Lawrence L. Williams, 38, of Godfrey, who was traveling north on Route 3, reports said.

The woman motorist agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was released upon posting a $302 cash bond.

Adams summed up his feelings by saying, "Hopefully, by Friday at 5 o'clock, we won't have to deal with this any more." (Associate Judge Edward Ferguson ruled Tuesday that Mehelic must vacate the highway commissioner's post by 5 p.m. Friday, unless the issue is appealed to an appellate court. A related story appears elsewhere in today's issue.)

While approving the bills, Trustee Helen Hawkins asked Slate if his felony from the highway commissioner's conviction on a felony charge of official misconduct.

Slate told her that the bills incurred to date, while Mehelic is in office, are legal. "He is in office and, if he represents the bill as duly incurred, they should be audited (paid)."

In other action Tuesday night, the trustees approved a transfer of funds in the highway commissioner's road and bridge budget.

sion on that appeal is to be made Oct. 20.

THE DAILY Racing Form on Saturday, Sept. 29, carried notice of Mehelic's suspension from the track.

Under a "Steward rulings" column, it said Mehelic was suspended because of his conviction of a Class 3 felony in Madison County Circuit Court on the official misconduct charge.

The ruling said Mehelic is to be denied access to, and the privileges of, all race tracks under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Racing Board.

The pronouncement was based on a Racing Board rule and on the jurisdiction over the highway commissioner. The man (Mehelic) is not broke. All he has to do is present the bill.

Trustee Lee Adams added, "If it came right down to the nitty-gritty, the trust could file a suit."

Township Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. told the trustees that they must either get the bills in to be paid or encourage Mehelic to sign a contract which would allow the board to pay the bills.

Trustee Joe Garcia admitted it is a problem for the board. "Under the (employees') contract, this is all supposed to be paid every month, regardless."

Mary Ann Hill was one of several people attending the meeting who expressed concern about the employees. "Isn't there some way that we can force this issue so the men and their families can be protected?" she asked.

Garcia answered, "It is hard to convince you people that we have no

2 St. Louisans among Illinois' 6 new millionaires

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

No one from this area won the grand prize in the latest Illinois State Lottery lotto but two of the six winning tickets were sold in this vicinity.

Six 20-year annuities worth $2,832,840 apiece, paid at $141,642 a year, went to Willie Himes, 62, and Mrs. Lynn Burke-Nester, both of St. Louis; Peter Northy, 41, Chicago, operator of a machinery sales company; Michael Uchitz, 30, Calumet City, a computer program analyst; James Slawitz, 52, Yorkville electrical workers' business representative; and Robert Schimke, 65, a River Forest postal carrier.

Himes quit his job Wednesday as a Normandy school custodian. He and his wife have 11 children, aged 20 to 37. He bought his ticket at Cosmo Liquor, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Burke-Nester, who is newly married, has been on leave from her job for the past three years to care for her ill mother. She has a daughter, 19, from a previous marriage. Her lotto ticket was purchased at Joe Vee TV, Cahokia.

The shared grand prize totaled $17 million. That was attained through active sales and the rollover from the Sept. 29 lotto, when there were no top winners. By Saturday afternoon, Oct. 6, sales were averaging $9,000 a minute, more than a half-million dollars an hour.

Supt. Michael J. Jones noted that it required only one rollover this time to reach $17 million, compared to August, when that prize level was achieved after two weekly rollovers.

Since Michael Wittkowski of Chicago won $40 million Sept. 1, the statewide pace of lotto sales has doubled.

It was announced early this week that 93 players matched five of the six winning numbers and received $1,000 each. Another 47,797 persons matched four of 3-7-11-30-35-36 to earn $45 apiece.

This weekend's lotto grand prize was $17 million, a $7 million current interest rates, every $1 million of a two-decade annuity costs about $400,000.

Players pick six numbers from one to 44. Each six-number selection costs 50 cents.

Regulations say that if a winner's share is large enough to buy a $1 million annuity, he or she will receive the prize in annuity form. If many winners, players with smaller than $1 million shares of the grand prize get a lump sum payment, the actual cash share.

Lottery agents who sell tickets that win major prizes receive a one percent bonus. Each of the latest six lucky players will be paid more than $28,000.

SCHOOL BUS STRIKES GC MAN'S TRACTOR-TRAILER

A Collinsville woman was injured last week when the school bus she was driving on Route 159 near Fairview Heights struck the rear of a tractor-trailer driven by a Granite City man, according to the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department.

Sandra McCabe, 36, suffered minor injuries and was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville.

The tractor-trailer, driven by Edward Massey, 48, of Granite City, was stopped in the outside northbound lane on Route 159 waiting for a vehicle turning into a car lot. The school bus struck the rear of the trailer, leaving 184 feet of skid marks, according to official sources.

The bus, owned by Vandalia Bus Lines in Caseyville, was carrying students from Belleville East High School. The students were not reported as injured.

Globe dispute with drivers brings pickets to GC plant

Informational pickets have appeared nightly at the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar Ave., as part of a change in distribution systems by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The Press-Record prints a portion of the Globe-Democrat's circulation under a contract with the Globe.

Globe Publisher Jeffrey Gluck and Berberich Delivery Inc., which had delivered the Globe to independent home-delivery carriers, terminated their contract Sunday over a dispute concerning weekly payments to Berberich. Gluck says he is current in his payments, but can save $20,000 a week by a different distribution system.

Teamsters Local 610, which represents Berberich drivers, then set up informational pickets Sunday night outside the Globe's office in St. Louis and at each of the newspaper's three printing plants, including the Press-Record.

The Teamsters allege Gluck is using non-union drivers. Gluck responds that all Globe-Democrat rank-and-file employees are members of the St. Louis Newspaper Guild. The Guild, however, decided Tuesday that the union will not represent the 20 new drivers hired by the Globe.

Gluck says the Globe is not interfering with any attempt to organize the drivers, but the Teamsters say they do not want to consider allowing the new drivers to join because the union already has members qualified to do the job.

A temporary restraining order was issued late Monday by St. Louis Circuit Judge George A. Adolf, limiting the number of informational pickets at each site to five and restricting the picketers from interfering with operations or damaging property of the Globe, its trucks or affiliated printing operations.

Granite City police, assisted at times by other police agencies, have provided extra security during the night hours, but there have been few incidents of trouble, according to Press-Record General Manager Paul Halbert.

Two men were arrested at 11:55 p.m. Sunday and were charged with disorderly conduct for allegedly refusing to move from entrances to the plant when ordered to move by police. The men, from Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., and Alton, were released at 2:15 a.m. Monday on notices to appear in court. Police reports on the incident were not available in time for Monday's Press-Record.

A tire on a truck near the newspaper building was cut Sunday night, but that incident has not been directly connected to the picketing. Tire slashings throughout the city and Pontoon Beach have been reported since the weekend and most are believed to be the work of local vandals, not picketers, police say.

Other than minor incidents, the situation at the Press-Record has been "basically peaceful," Halbert said.

Final drive for Arlington area city water line

The new Arlington Heights Water District, which will serve homes in the Arlington Heights subdivision near State Aid 35, has completed its basic canvass and sign-up for water service, according to a district board member.

Those signing up agree to provide funding enabling the district to buy water from the Illinois American Water Company and install water lines to the residential neighborhood.

The district needed and received the consent of at least 80 percent of the homeowners for such a move, it was announced this week.

A final drive is being made during the remainder of October to contact those homeowners who have not yet decided to participate.

They will have until the end of the month to sign up for city water service. The district is notifying all parties that, at 12:01 a.m. Nov. 1, all tap-on fees will double.

For further information about the sign-up, interested persons are being asked to contact a district board member or to call engineer Jack Humes at 1-556-9574.

With the growth of the Arlington Heights area, initial water sources became inadequate and the problem has worsened, officials said.

Weber will speak about his candidacy and his reasons for seeking the office. A question-and-answer period will follow Weber's comments.

An invitation also was extended to state's attorney candidate Dick Allen, but he indicated that he would be unable to attend.

The public is being invited to the meeting Monday.

Collector Hall to resign

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Nameoki Township Collector Norman Hall submitted a letter to the town board of trustees Tuesday night, notifying the board of his intent to resign from the position effective Feb. 28, 1995.

Hall, who was absent from the board meeting, stated in his letter when he took the position in January 1982 that "due to the late issuance of tax bills and the habit of our county government retaining and drawing interest on our tax dollars, the position of tax collector is justified. This is based on the cost of anticipation warrants by the taxing bodies within our township."

Today, Hall said, much has been accomplished. "Taxes were collected and disbursed within the same week to the taxing bodies of our township. We proved immediate disbursements could be made, even without computers. During the same time, I worked diligently to get laws and procedures changed on the county and state level to eliminate these problem areas. Time was even spent on your behalf to petition our local school board to place their backdoor bond issue on the November ballot."

Hall's goals, the letter notes, have been achieved. He cited the recent action by the Madison County Board to retain a full-time Board of Review and the recent action by the Illinois Supreme Court requiring that county governments disburse tax monies within 30 days or pay interest fees of one-tenth of one percent for each day beyond 30 days.

Hall added that he doesn't intend to resign until February, so that he might complete several small tasks. But he did leave the effective resignation date to the discretion of the board.

Hall told the Press-Record that, according to law, "it appears that the board is to appoint someone to take my place." But, he admits, the office may no longer be necessary. "I would feel that we would no longer be able to justify it for Nameoki Township."

Following the reading of the letter, Trustee Helen Hawkins recommended that a special meeting to discuss personnel matters, specifically Hall's resignation, be conducted in the near future.

Board members agreed, with Trustee Lew Adams commenting, "I think Norm has done a real good job."

In other action, the trustees approved a new contract with Campbell Ambulance Service, Inc. Township Supervisor Harry Briggs noted that the contract is "practically the same as we had the last two or three years. There are a few raises, but they don't amount to much."

Briggs said that in 1983, the township paid a total bill of $656 to the ambulance service and has paid nothing so far this year.

The township is required to pay bills unpaid by residents serviced by the ambulance service. Adams said the township has not had to pay very much because the ambulance service "goes to all extremes to get the bill paid."

Briggs added, "I think they've done an excellent job and I'd sure hate like heck to lose them."

The board also noted that Charles Reed has cleaned up a drainage ditch after residents of Meridian Avenue complained about debris and trash being dumped in the ditch. Although the ditch lies on Reed's property, Reed says he has not dumped anything in the ditch.

Madison County Board Member Donald Rea of Nameoki Township said he looked at the site after Reed hauled out the debris and moved it, and commented, "He's done a commendable job. I already interviewed residents and neighbors and they're pleased with the job."

The trustees also approved a grievance procedure for handicapped individuals who feel that they have been discriminated against in applying for or participating in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

Briggs called the resolution, "a must for the Department of Revenue Sharing." He added that no handicapped individual has ever filed a complaint with the township.

The resolution states that a complaint must be submitted in writing or verbally to Briggs within 15 days of the alleged violation. Following the complaint, the town inspector is to conduct an investigation. The town clerk would then compile a written determination as to the validity of the complaint and propose a possible solution.

Duquesne Tamburitzan show Nov. 18

Last year's visit by the Tamburitzan dancers of Duquesne University was so successful that this year community leaders from the Granite City area are once again sponsoring a performance by the Tamburitzans to benefit a scholarship fund for the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College.

The Tamburitzan dancers keep alive the musical heritage of the East European and South Central European people. They take their name from the tambura, an ancient lute-like, multi-stringed instrument they use in their performance.

The performance will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 18, at the Granite City High School auditorium. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Ticket information, interested persons may call 931-0602.

Scholarships in Japan available

U.S. Senators Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) and Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) are asking Illinois high school principals to nominate one outstanding member of each of their junior classes to be considered for the 1984 Japan-U.S. Senate Scholarship program — an intercultural exchange program that allows two Illinois students to spend the summer in Japan with a host family.

"I can think of few opportunities more challenging for a mature young person than to live abroad," Percy said. "As important as foreign trade is to Illinois, I know that this scholarship will be the basis for many exciting future careers."

Dixon added: "I have seen many bright students drop by my office on their way to Japan. Meeting these fine young men and women has impressed me with just how important this program is. I hope that high schools around the state continue to participate."

Funding by the Japanese government and Youth for Understanding (YFU), the scholarship program allows two students from every state to live in Japan. In addition to spending eight weeks with a Japanese family, the students will visit their senators in Washington and meet the Japanese ambassador.

The senators ask that principals base their recommendation on students' academic standing (at least a 3.2 grade point average on a four-point scale), school and community leadership and an ability to adapt to new environments.

The deadline for the nominations is Nov. 5.

More information is available from Youth for Understanding, 3501 Newark St., NW, Washington, D.C., 20016.

Certificate awarded to local songwriter

Richard Dunlap, 2816 Pershing Blvd., local songwriter and composer, received a certificate of merit from Chapel Recording Talent and Associated Co. for his work submitted to the organization.

He has had two songs recorded by Chapel Co. and one by Nashville Songwriters Service in the past year. Dunlap said he has received a contract from Chapel, to sign nothing they want to promote his future material.

To date he has written 83 songs, poems, two short stories and is working on a novel at the present time.

No date has been set for the release of two songs being recorded by Dodie Frost and George Farn, country western singers and a third song, that Dodie Frost is recording.

"Hopefully these songs will be presented to the public in 1985," Dunlap said.

He and his wife, Sandra Kay, are the parents of a 13-year-old daughter, Stephanie Jean.

Default issued in sick pay complaint

A default judgment was handed down by the Third Judicial Circuit Court Tuesday in a small claims complaint filed by three Madison police officers against the city of Madison over sick pay. The judgment came after no representatives from the city appeared before the court. The default judgment means that the failure of the city to defend itself results in a ruling for the officers.

However, the city has 30 days to file a motion to dismiss the default judgment and to move for an extension. Madison City Attorney Casper Nighossian, when contacted shortly after the scheduled court hearing, said he would file such motion.

The suit was filed on behalf of Madison Police Officer Thomas Woloski and former officers William Weidner and Richard Asperger. The complaint sought $2,000 for wages and attorney's fees. The officers' attorney, Nick Vassileff, says the three are asking for sick pay, which they were denied when five police officers called in sick on July 26, 1983. The three plaintiffs claim that they followed department policy by turning in doctors' reports and should be paid for the sick day. City officials have contended that the officers had the "blue flu," because of an informational picket by officers coincided with the sick days.

Slow progress in cable TV for Venice

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The final obstacle to beginning construction in Venice of a cable television network is secured the necessary permits from Illinois Power Company and Illinois Bell to use utility poles, Lon Caruth, general manager of South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., informed the Venice City Council last week.

Questions concerning the status of cable service in the community have surfaced at council meetings with regularity and resulted in a written report from Caruth being read by Mayor Tyrone Echols.

South-Western Cable TV was granted a franchise to provide cable television to Venice in early May, but little preparation appeared to be taking place during the ensuing months, aldermen frequently noted.

Explaining that a major obstacle was connected with the securing of a franchise to serve the city of Madison, Caruth said, "All preliminary applications have been submitted to the Illinois Bell (Illinois Power) during the last four months but, to date, only preliminary rides out to check poles with Illinois Power have started. Illinois Bell is so far behind with the 'important work' that we have not been able to secure a definite timetable from them as to when these preliminary steps can begin."

In addition, when these ride-outs are completed, neither firm will commit to a firm date by which re-arrangement of their facilities will be completed to enable us to attach to their poles," Caruth stated.

"We are prepared to begin our work as soon as they complete theirs," he stressed.

"All cable, electronic and hardware are on site at our Maryville complex and contractors are standing by to begin construction. I would like to be able to commit to a date for completion, but we are at the mercy of the utilities at this time," Caruth concluded.

In other business, the council gave final approval to the 1984-85 budget of $1,715,000. The council also approved a resolution to bridge, amounting to $757,768.

Inspection of elementary students reveals head lice

An inspection of Granite City elementary students by their school nurses has identified positive cases of head lice in every school.

Parents are being urged by school officials to check their own children at least once a week for the duration of the school year. Early detection and prompt treatment will keep the outbreaks to a minimum. Parents should notify their school nurse immediately if any sign of head lice is found.

The primary symptom of head lice is persistent itching of the scalp. On close inspection, bite wounds may be present, especially in the areas behind the ears and at the back of the neck. The eggs appear as tiny whitish ovals firmly attached to hair shafts, usually within one inch from the scalp.

There are prescription and special over-the-counter shampoos that will get rid of head lice. A single application of the shampoo may not be effective, therefore, the state health department recommends that infested patients be treated twice. In order to kill newly hatched lice, the interval between shampoos should be ten days. Caution should be taken to follow the directions on the label. Overuse of shampoos may be harmful.

The eggs, as well as live lice, should be killed by the shampoo, but the eggs do not fall out of the hair by themselves. The eggs can be removed by using an extra fine tooth comb or manually picking each one out.

Shampooing in not enough to rid a household of head lice. The home must also undergo a thorough cleaning. Bedding and recently worn clothing, including hats and coats, must be washed in hot water and dried in a hot dryer or dry cleaned.

Deadline for federal clerical jobs Friday

Tomorrow is the deadline for persons to apply for clerical positions with the federal government.

An erroneous telephone number in a news release to regional newspapers caused some confusion this week among those attempting to apply for the jobs. The correct number is 1-314-425-4285, but the number has been very busy since the release was announced and the Press-Record has been unable to get through for details on how to apply.

Applicants for clerical positions with the government must complete OPM Form 5000-B and must be posted by the Office of Personnel Management to the Office of Personnel.

Jailed in stabbing incident at lounge

Kenneth D. Harris, 26, of 2224 Washington Ave. appeared in court in Granite City Monday, Oct. 8, and was taken to the Madison County Jail at 8 p.m. that day in lieu of $40,000 bond on a warrant alleging aggravated battery. Authorities said the warrant was related to a knife incident at 12:45 a.m. Oct. 4 outside Geo's Lounge.

On charges of marijuana possession, he was fined $100 Tuesday. After Harris was arrested on the battery warrant during the weekend—at a tavern in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue, Madison—police alleged finding a plastic bag in his clothing.

Masonic Lodge 877 past master Reed Jones dies

J. Reed Jones, a past master of Masonic Lodge 877 in Granite City, and a former local resident, died Friday, Oct. 5, 1984, at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

He is survived by his wife, Sybil; one son, Austin; Jones of Manchester, Mo.; one daughter, Mrs. Glen (Reedith) Gutjahr Jr. of Collinsville; one brother, John H. Taylor of Dickson, Tenn.; 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services were held Monday, Oct. 8, at a Collinsville funeral home, with burial at Lake View Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

A preliminary budget was adopted by the aldermen in June, following approval by Hardesty and Hanover, the city's consulting engineering firm on bridge matters.

Carpenters ratify 3-year contract with Builders

Members of the Carpenters District Council of Madison County and vicinity ratified a new contract with the Southern Illinois Builders Association during the weekend.

The new contract will provide journeyman carpenters with $1.90 in raises over three years. The union had been working without a contract since Aug. 1.

A federal mediator helped bring the two sides to a tentative agreement in late September after the union staged a two-day strike against contractors represented by the SIBA.

Allege GC driver threatens family

Richard J. Kostoff, 35, of 2541 Jerden Ave., was arrested during the weekend in Madison County following an incident occurring in a parking lot involving a motorist and his family. Granite City officers went to the Sonie Service Station, McCambridge Avenue and Edwardsville Road, after John Richardson of Granite City waved down an officer on patrol and alleged a man driving a tan car had pulled a gun on him and his family.

He followed the vehicle to the service station, he told the officer, who found the car and driver, later identified as Kostoff. In checking Kostoff's vehicle, a shoving kit containing a bottle with a cannabiss cigarette inside and a plastic film holder containing a green leafy substance allegedly were found. Other items reportedly in the car included a 25-caliber semi-automatic pistol in a closed car arm rest.

Kostoff was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, possession of a cannabiss and aggravated assault.

Richardson, with a woman passenger and young daughter, was driving east on 21st Street, approaching Edwardsville Road and went around a car which was traveling about 15 mph, he said.

After he passed the vehicle, the driver seemed to take offense and began tailgating him, he said. As he got to Edwardsville Road, the driver, identified later as Kostoff, went into a parking lot at 21st Street, then pulled directly in front of Richardson's auto, the latter told police.

Kostoff got out of his car and walked back toward Richardson, who said he was hit by the woman passenger being yelling that the man had a gun held by his side.

A child in Richardson's car became very upset and laid down on the floor screaming, police were told. When Kostoff allegedly began knocking on the car window, Richardson drove away, he said.

A woman in Kostoff's car also taken into custody was released pending further investigation. Kostoff also was released after posting a $306 cash bond.

Pedestrian struck by auto

Jackie A. Watkins, 51, of 2643 Edwards St., was hit by the right front of a car at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday after leaving her parked auto and starting to cross the street in the 2400 block of Lincoln Ave. An ambulance took her to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of multiple injuries. Elmer Parks, 3044 Ramona Drive, said he was pulling away from the curb immediately behind the Watkins vehicle.

MADISON POST OFFICE RANSACKED ON TUESDAY

Larry Day, mail carrier at the Madison Post Office, Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, told police at 5 a.m. Tuesday that someone broke into the building, ransacking several rooms.

Entry was gained by breaking a window. The perpetrator ransacked the cases on the north side of the main room, tearing open a large amount of COD packages. He then ransacked the filing cabinets in the clerks' area and the postmaster's office.

Hays told police he was not sure if anything was missing.

Ballot includes 8 for president, 18 running for university board

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Walter F. Mondale and Ronald Reagan were the only visible U.S. presidential candidates debating in Louisville this week, but Illinoisans have a much wider choice than that.

Along with Democrat Mondale and Pres. Reagan, Republican incumbent, the Illinois ballot Nov. 6 offers Communist Gus Hall, Socialist Worker Mel Mason, Libertarian David Bergland, Citizen Sonia Johnson and two independents, Ed Winn and Dennis L. Serrette.

Even with so many presidential candidates, Illinois lacks some of the nominees for president that other states boast, including nominees of the Prohibition, National Unity, Big Deal, Workers World, United Sovereign, American and Populist parties.

GERALDINE FERRARO,

Democrat, and Vice President George Bush, Republican, are tonight's debaters, vying for the office of vice president.

In addition to them, those paired with presidential candidates in Illinois include Angela Y. Davis of the Communist Party, Matilde Zimmermann of the Socialist Workers, Jim Lewis of the Libertarians, Richard J. Walton of the Citizens Party, independent Jean T. Brust, running with Winn, and independent Nancy Ross, running with Serrette.

There is not quite as wide a selection for the U.S. Senate, but almost. POLLS INDICATE a close race between Sen. Charles H. Percy (R) and Paul Simon (D), but also vying for senatorial votes are Ishmael Plory, Communist, Nelson Gonzalez of the Socialist Workers, Steven I. Givot, Libertarian, and Marjorie H.

Pries, Citizens.

If that is not enough of a choice, voters also may ponder a write-in candidate for the U.S. Senate, John Taylor.

No less than 18 persons hoping to be elected as trustees of the University of Illinois appear on the November ballot for consideration by Quad-Cityans. Three will win.

The university board aspirants are Ann E. Smith, Paul Stone and Robert C. Hamilton, Democrats; Ralph Crane Hahn, Park Livingston and Susan Loving Gravenhorst, Republicans; Richard L. Giovanoni, Elsie Rosado and Marcia D. Davis, Communists; Holly Harkness, Rita Lee and Mark Burrows, Socialist Workers; Cheryl Person-Tilman, Carol Healy Warne and Joseph A. Maxwell, Libertarians; and Edward A. Sadlowski, Mary Lee Sargent and Marian Henriquez Neudel, Citizens Party.

CONGRESSMAN Melvin Price, Democrat, has only one opponent, Republican Robert H. "Bob" Gaffner, while Circuit Clerk Willard V. Portell has no opponent at all in this election.

Two-way races exist for all other countywide offices in Madison County next month.

State's Attorney Don W. Weber, Republican, is being challenged by Democrat Dick Allen.

THREE DEMOCRATIC incumbents are running against Republican foes—Recorder of Deeds Ronald P. "Rink" Lucas vs. Robert E. Saksa, County Auditor Arthur Pete Fields vs. Michael B. McNamee Sr., and Mrs. Dallas M. Burke, coroner, vs. Dr. Edward L. Braud.

State Rep. Sam W. Wolf, Democrat, has no opposition for reelection in 1984.

Fifth Judicial District Appellate Judges Charles E. Jones and John M. Karns Jr. are seeking retention in their present offices. Also seeking retention is Third Circuit Judge William E. Johnson.

FOURTEEN OF THE 29 Madison County Board positions will be decided this fall.

Quad-City area County Board seats on the ballot are: District 22, where Herbert "Junior" Milton (D) is unopposed for re-election.

District 23, where the opponents are Democrat Don Garrett and Republican John F. Huber; and District 24, where Frank Dutko (D) is unopposed for another term.

Vandals still busy cutting tires in GC

Several incidents of damage to vehicles were reported Monday in Granite City, including some tire cutting, adding to the amount of malicious destruction caused by vandals during the weekend.

Two tires were cut by vandals on a 1980 auto belonging to Chris Graf, 1636 Clark Ave., he reported at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

About the same time, Anthony Wiehardt, 1312a Twenty-Fifth St., reported two tires were cut on his 1977 auto when the vehicle was parked in the 1600 block of Clark Avenue.

Four tires were slashed on a 1974 car owned by Lucy Wooden. The vehicle was parked at the Bellemeor Animal Hospital, 2117 Johnson Road, during the weekend, she said.

Four tires were slashed on a food truck parked in the driveway at the Loy Singleton home, 2820 Lincoln Ave., and a knife apparently was used to cut four tires on an auto owned by Don Cathey, 2818 Lincoln Ave., also parked in the driveway, the owners reported Monday.

A vandal smashed the windshield and damaged a window vent on the parked auto of Brian Bell, 2823 Lincoln Ave., he told police Monday.

DECEPTION IS ALLEGED

Denise A. Trobaugh, 24, of 3215 Maryville Road was booked by Granite City police last week on a warrant alleging deceptive practice; complaint was the Farm Fresh firm.

She was freed pending a hearing.

Mrs. Stumpe reported the CWF area meeting in Festus, Mo., will take place on Oct. 23 and reservations are due by Oct. 15. A car pool will be arranged and those needing transportation are to contact Myra Parrish.

Also, Central Christian Church will host the Church Women United World Community Day scheduled for Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

New officers are as follows: President Ann Scott, Vice-President Melanie McFarland (membership), Vice-President Joan Roberts (program), Secretary Marie Williams, and Treasurer Carol Franklin.

The first annual Friends book sale was quite a success, it was announced.

It was agreed that funds from this sale is to be spent for a sign to be erected in back of the library on the 20th Street side. This is on the same side the Main Library has received funds to install a "vertical powerlift," which is an elevator-like lift able to carry people with and without handicaps from the ground level entrance at the 20th Street side to the basement and the first floor levels, the president explained.

A Christmas book sale is to be held near the last week of October for Members of the Friends of the Library. Several books were on display at the meeting and those interested are to call the main library for the dates of the sale.

The monthly Library Newspaper will be mailed to members or copies can be picked up at the library. The paper is "Openers" which is published by the American Library Association's Public Information Office for America's Libraries.

News to the group was that the branch library has lost the lease for the building and will be moving soon. Volunteers will be notified to help move the books when a place is found to either reopen or store all the books and equipment.

Membership is open to the public, it was noted.

Lancers down Warriors, 4-3

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — Players from the Belleville East High soccer team call teammate K. C. Brechnitz "Break Dance."

That's because, one player explained, "he's the only one left in school who does the dance."

The "Break Dance," as a fad, has long passed the scene. Even Brechnitz will tell you it's been a great while since he's performed the break dance steps.

Rob Nabb, Scott Racer, Tim Derstine, Steve Korobey, Gary Bidwell, and especially Brechnitz kicked ass — tore to shreds — another tradition Wednesday afternoon on the campus of Belleville Area Community College.

The Lancers defeated the Warriors of Granite City High, 4-3.

Dethroned is a better word.

THE LANCER victory marks the first time a soccer team from the Southwestern Conference team has defeated the Warriors. Although the Warriors have competed with SWC teams in the past, this is the first year in 11 that the Warriors have actually been a part of the SWC.

The victory marks the first time the Lancers have bested the Warriors since Belleville East started its soccer program seven years ago — when "disco" dancing was the rage.

Why, heck, the contest marks the first time the Lancers have even scored a goal against a Warrior soccer team.

THE SMILE was wide. It was as bright as the afternoon sky was gray. Philip Aleman, the Lancer coach, has endured the many heartaches that came with the many years of coming up short to the Warriors. Wednesday came the joy.

"Four to zip," he said, the smile intact, when asked what was the closest the Lancers had ever come to defeating the Warriors. "That was the closest."

Four to zip.

Let the record show the Lancers, now 3-4-1, earned their moment of triumph.

Let the record show that the first two times the Warriors took a shot at the Lancer goal, the ball went in.

IT WAS 2-0 in the first five minutes of the match — Todd Adamits scoring the first on a pass from Mike Houston and Frankie Soeller the second after keeper Korobey fumbled a bad hop shot by Adamits — and the Lancer netminder was saying to himself, "I'm not believing this."

There were other disbelievers several minutes later, only they wore red jerseys. The Lancers' Nabb, midway into the second quarter, drilled a shot past Warrior keeper Job Blasigame — ending the Lancers' seven-year scoring drought.

They didn't stop the match. They didn't award any game balls. Maybe Nabb, himself, didn't realize the significance of his goal.

"We're trying to arrive at some kind of athletic maturity. We're not there right now."

Gene Baker
Warrior soccer coach

IF NABB tore a hole in the sheet of the Warriors' Southwestern Conference dominance, Brechnitz, "Break Dance" himself, ripped it apart.

Let the record show that, early in the third quarter, Brechnitz, the Lancers' striker, raced past defender Scott Grote to reach the ball, then rifled it into the goal.

The match.

But not for long. Let the record show that the Lancers' Bidwell was on the seat of his pants when he sent a pass toward the Warrior goal where Nabb controlled it. Let the record show there was a melee of players in the goalmouth area when Nabb left the ball for Brechnitz, who pounded it into the goal.

"ME (Nabb) could've shot it," said Brechnitz, a sophomore. "But I told him to let it go."

3-2 Lancers, and another first.

Let the record show this was a Warrior team that could also fight back from a deficit. With about nine minutes left in the match, the Warriors — who had already bounced two shots off the goalpost — squared matters when Greg Gobble scored on a header off a corner kick from Jim Chomko.

Yet tradition had been kicked around enough this day not to fall completely. In the blink of an eye, no later than another Lancer charge up the field, Belleville East etched themselves another mark in the history book.

DERSTINE took a shot in which Blasigame, forced to leave the goal, managed to deflect away. With Blasigame out of the goal, Racer raced in and, from about 15 yards out, sent the ball into the lower left hand corner of the net.

Let the record show the goal came with about eight minutes left. Let the record show that when time had elapsed and the Lancers were still ahead, players surged onto the field in glee.

The celebration wasn't much different than the one last Saturday night at the Gauntlet, when the Warriors toppled the team that on the previous night had defeated, at the time, the St. Louis area's No. 1 rank-

PAINTING IT PERFECT. George Geggus, a painter with Granite City School District Nine, was hard at work Tuesday when he and co-worker, David Wilson, began painting the press box in Memorial Stadium. Geggus estimated that it would take 30 gallons of paint to complete the beautification of the press box. Supported by the Granite City High School Booster Club, numerous painters have been working this week to complete the much-needed task.

ed team, CBC.

THE WARRIORS' 2-1 victory over St. Louis U. High that night in the Tournament of Champions also ignited a surge of joy, and though they lost the next night to what is now the area's top-ranked team Rosary, its coach said they had played "with a lot of heart."

Let the record show it was a different team Wednesday, which out-shot the Lancers by only a 12-8 margin and forced just three corner kicks, one fewer than their opponent.

Gene Baker, Warriors' coach and keyholder of the school's storied soccer tradition that has brought six state championships, faced his team's troubles squarely.

"WE'RE trying to arrive at some kind of athletic maturity. We're not there right now," said Baker.

Baker called the outcome an "excellent win for Belleville East."

He praised Aleman. He praised the Lancers. He said how they displayed "hunger and drive."

"You have to credit Belleville East," he said.

In defeat, Baker showed grace. In triumph, the Lancers did the same.

They spoke in reverent tones of the Warriors. Yes, they said, it was a victory to remember.

Said one player, "It's always a big win when you beat a state champ."

Flyerettes whip Warrior spikers

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School volleyball coach Wilma Schulte predicted earlier in the season that the East St. Louis Flyerettes would be one of her team's toughest conference rivals this year.

Tuesday, East Side proved the Warrior coach's predictions were right as they defeated the home town squad 15-9, 15-8.

Although the Warrior coach felt that Belleville West was still the top conference team, she named the East St. Louis squad as having one of the top teams in the area.

On Wednesday, Granite City rebounded and defeated another conference foe, Collinsville 15-7, 15-6. It was the Warriors' third victory over the Lady Hawks this season.

Although Coach Schulte felt Belleville West was still the top conference team, she named the East St. Louis squad as having one of the top teams in the area.

"THEY'RE not as smart of hitters as Belleville," the Granite City coach said of the Flyerettes.

"Belleville doesn't hit as hard, but they are more consistent than the East St. Louis hitters. However the rest of their game is very consistent. I think their coach really works on that."

The Warriors were able to stay with the Flyerettes through the first part of both the first and second games. In the first game, the Granite City squad came back after trailing 9-4 to pull within one point of their opponents, 9-8. However, a missed serve by the Warriors opened the gates for the Flyerettes.

IN THE second contest much the same problem plagued the Warriors. Granite City again came from behind to give East Side a scare. After trailing 8-5, the Warriors rebounded to tie the score at eight.

Despite two Granite City timeouts in the final minutes, the Warriors were unable to break the Flyerettes momentum as they finished off the game with seven straight points.

One bright spot for the Warriors was their passing game. Granite City, who has been troubled by a poor passing game all season, had one of their best games against the Flyerettes.

"THEIR passing game has improved," said the Warrior coach. "We have been working on it in practice and I think they are beginning to understand the importance of a good passing game."

"It's too bad we weren't playing a weaker team," the Warrior coach said and laughed.

Granite City will begin play Friday night in the 10-team Belleville West Invitational. The tournament will feature such powerhouses as top seeded Springfield Sacred Heart and third-seeded Carbondale.

Local teams that will be taking part in the tournament are Mater Dei (2), Belleville West (4), Belleville Althoff (5), Mascoutah (6), Freeburg (7), Belleville East (8), Red Bud (9) and Granite City (10).

THE Warriors were the consolation champions of last year's tournament. However, this year's contest will not feature a consolation bracket. This year's tournament will be played as a round-robin tournament with the two top teams from each pool advancing to the finals.

Coach Schulte feels the change in format will make little difference in how well her team will perform.

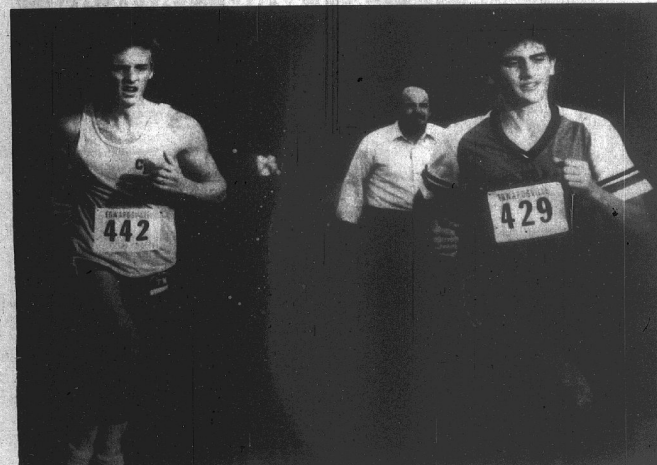

"They brought in a few more teams, and they were strong teams," said the Warrior coach. "It was a tough tournament because now it will be even tougher."

"But in volleyball there's always hope. You can crack the best teams."

The Warriors will begin play Friday at 8 p.m. when they take on Mater Dei. Saturday, Granite City will play Mascoutah at 10 a.m., Carbondale at 1 p.m., and Freeburg at 3 p.m.

The tournament championship is scheduled for 5 p.m.

Trojans preserve winning record

MADISON — Madison High School's varsity soccer team came another step closer towards finishing the season with a winning record Monday afternoon as it handily defeated Westminster Christian Academy 3-1.

Prior to the Trojans' season start, Coach Gene Briggs called a winning season a paramount goal for his team and the Madison soccer program, now in its eighth year.

Now, a month and 13 games into the season, the Trojans appear to be in reach of that goal. Tuesday's victory put the Trojans ahead, once again, with a 6-5-2 season tally.

AFTER a 6-0 deadlock through the first half, Madison broke on to the scoreboard eight minutes into the third quarter — at the 48-minute mark — when Terrence Hicks' body deflection of Kenny Ingram's corner kick gave Madison their first goal.

"It was a pretty good corner kick by Ingram," Briggs said describing the goal. "It looked like Terrence was going to head the ball in, and then used his body instead."

The Trojans picked up an insurance goal later that period — at the 51-minute mark — to increase their score to 2-1. And, like the first, Ingram had a hand in on the lone.

MADISON'S Sean Mosby worked the ball into WCA's goal box where, before he could fire off a shot, was tripped.

Called in to take the shot, Ingram blasted it past Westminster's goalie for the score. Mosby picked up the assist.

Madison's little-big man, Jerry

Gushieff, secured the Trojan victory when he scored mid-way through the fourth quarter — at the 70-minute mark.

Working their way through Westminster's defense, Gushieff and Ravvy Clayton exchanged possessions until they reached the goalies box. Gushieff fired a straight-on shot which found its way to the back of the net. Clayton was credited with the assist.

One game above .500, the Trojans will be looking to increase that lead Thursday when they host the Lebanon Greyhounds for a 4 p.m. contest.

Listless Venice rips past Worden spikers

By JAMES BLASIGAME
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The Venice Red Devilettes volleyball team hadn't practiced for three days when they took the court against the Worden Trojanettes on Tuesday afternoon.

And according to Venice coach Clinton Harris, the layoff was evident in his team's play.

"We looked sluggish out there. We weren't setting up well or spiking well," said Harris.

"There was no practice Saturday or Sunday, and we were off Monday (Columbus Day). It showed," he said.

DESPITE the team's listlessness, Venice defeated Worden 15-9, 8-15 and 15-10.

"Our service wasn't good in the first game, and in the second game we couldn't do anything right," Harris said. "The third game we played a little better. We played just well enough to win."

Winning is something that the Red Devilettes have been doing frequently this season.

Tuesday's win brought the Venice record to 8-4 overall and 4-1 in the Illinois Gateway Conference, good enough for a first place tie with St. Paul.

"IF WE win our next two league games, we'll tie St. Paul for the conference championship," said Harris.

On Thursday the Red Devilettes travel to Metro-East Lutheran High School for one of their two remaining league contests. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Venice closes out conference play next Wednesday against Livingston.

Bernaix Is Warriors' First Wiser is best in county meet

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — There's a lot more strategy to cross-country running than most people think, more than just running the fastest.

Just ask Granite City High School's Lora Wiser.

Using a different strategy than she has in the past, Wiser defeated long-time nemesis Pam Quarengi of Collinsville, and in the process became the fastest female in Madison County Tuesday when she won the girls' division of the county cross-country meet on the campus of Southern Illinois University.

Wiser's finish of 12:26 on the hilly two-mile course paced the Warriors to a first-place team tally as well. Of the top five of seven runners in team competition, the Warriors finished first, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh to easily clinch the title.

Finishing fourth overall and second for the Warriors was Melody Witt, 13:12. Michelle Shoemaker finished third for Granite City with a time of 13:26; Sheila Noel was the fourth Warrior to cross the finish line at 13:35, while Lori Pepe crossed the finish line seventh overall and fifth for Granite City at 13:54.

THE WARRIORS amassed 23 points compared to second-place Collinsville with 47 and Triad with 60 team points.

In boys' competition, the Warriors were also a power to be reckoned with. Flexing their collective might, the Warriors finished third overall, behind Alton and Edwardsville, with 55 points.

Where the Warrior boys proved brilliance was in its depth, pack-running style. Conceding first, fourth and fifth to Alton, Granite City's Darren Bernaix picked up seventh place overall with a time of 16:34 on the three-mile course, while the rest of Granite City's squad finished 9th, 12th, 13th and 14th, ahead of Alton's fourth- and fifth-place finishers.

Coming in behind Bernaix were Todd Isom, 17:44; Charlie Porter, 17:51; John Varadian, 18:02, and Keith Bono, 18:06.

"Everyone ran a fine race, a very fine race," said Warrior coach Dave McClain afterwards. "The girls are primed, they're in good health and their mental attitude is good."

"As for the boys, this was their best race of the season, especially Bernaix. All the kids were right there," McClain said of his team's up-front, pack-running style.

The Warriors' first-place finishes in both the girls' and boys' competition didn't just happen — there were specific reasons for their respective finishes.

"The Warriors' first-place finishes in both the girls' and boys' competition didn't just happen — there were specific reasons for their respective finishes."

According to Wiser, her success Tuesday, her first in three tries over Quarengi this season, can be attributed to a change of her strategy.

"Pam's a fine runner, especially

BEST EFFORT. Granite City High School's Lora Wiser proved she has what it takes to become the best in Madison County Tuesday afternoon when she finished first in girls' competition.

In the second mile. She always seems to get stronger as the race progresses," Wiser said.

It was for that reason that Wiser changed her strategy.

"Knowing her strength is her second mile, I went out strong the first mile, trying to get ahead and make her push herself more than she planned to catch me," Wiser said. "I just went out fast and hoped she couldn't make up the difference in the latter half."

"It was hot, humid and hard to breathe. It wasn't my fastest time here, but this is my favorite course," Wiser said.

AS FOR as Quarengi is concerned, Wiser's strategy worked to perfection.

"I felt going in like I could win, but I seem to lack the confidence to win. I don't have the confidence right now. I've got a negative attitude," Quarengi said.

"I saw her go, take off from the beginning, and I let her go. I got psyched out when I saw her take off like that. At that point, I felt like all I wanted was second," Quarengi said. "She ran a great race."

As for Bernaix, his improved performance can be attributed to one thing — more practice.

"I've been working out a little more with the team these last few weeks and it's beginning to show," Bernaix said.

"Between band, work and cross-country it was pretty rough to get everything in, particularly longer, developing practices," Bernaix said.

"But I think we've got everything worked out now. I'm working less and practicing more and it seems to be paying off. Finally, I feel like I'm coming around, getting into running shape."

Bernaix said until recently he'd been totalling about 18 miles per week, but since making a stronger commitment his running that amount has nearly doubled.

Venice High School, the other Quad-Cities area team to field a team in the meet finished ninth overall. Lionel Wiley was the first Red Devil to cross the line. Wiley's 20:46 time garnered him a 40th-place finish.

Against Hazelwood, Waterloo GCHS netters pick up a pair

With the Southwestern Conference tennis tournament coming up this Saturday at Belleville East, the Warrior tennis team appears to be entering the tournament in top form.

With two victories this week, one over nearby Hazelwood East and another over Waterloo, the Warriors have improved their season record to 6-5.

In a match that was shortened by rain, the Warriors rolled over Hazelwood East Monday afternoon 4-2 to even its record at 5-5. Then Wednesday, in Waterloo, the Warriors went one game over the 500 mark as they handily defeated the Bulldogs 5-0.

ON MONDAY, in the matches over the Warriors managed to get in before the rains, Beth Suess defeated Kim Davidson 6-7, 7-6, 6-0 to secure a victory in fourth singles. That was the only singles match completed.

In doubles action, the Warriors' first doubles team of Maria Farra and Dawn Schwartz bettered Stacey Shaw and Polly Stait 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 to

On The Grid Menu Trojans dedicate Dymas Field; Warriors meet Althoff Crusaders

A big weekend of football gets under way tomorrow night as both Madison's and Granite City High School's football squads take to the gridiron.

The Trojans will be the first to take to the field as they host highly-touted Dupu (4-1) Friday at 7:30 p.m. For the Trojans, now 2-3, it will be a homecoming of sorts as they return to Sam Dymas Memorial Field for their second home night game of the season. During Friday's game — at half-time to be specific — the Madison Board of Education and the high school will officially dedicate the field in memory of Dymas.

AS FOR Granite City, the Warriors will also have their hands full when they meet perennially tough Belleville Althoff in Belleville Saturday at 4 p.m. The Crusaders are 5-1 following last week's loss to Belleville West. The Warriors, after last weekend's 25-13 loss to Edwardsville, are 1-4 and still seek their second win of the season.

"Althoff's a real physical ball club," said Warrior coach Ron Yates Wednesday. "Physical and intimidating."

"There aren't too many teams that can stay with them as far as being physical and intimidating, but we're hoping."

"If we're to do that we've got to play flawless ball, not commit mistakes and play sound football," Yates said.

As for the Warrior offense, Yates said he hopes to establish a running game.

"I'm from the old school of football. We're going to try to open up our offense by establishing the running game, and then our passing game. If we don't have any luck with our ground game then you'll see us go to the air as we did last week."

Last week the Warriors' running game was virtually non-existent. Of the Warriors' 187 total yards, all but 17 resulted from pass completions. That shortcoming of Granite City's ground game which eventually opened the way the second half for pass completions to wide receiver Eric Graves and Jamie Hogan.

As for Madison, the Trojans will have to find a way to contain the volatile Tiger offense. The Tigers lost a heart-breaker last Friday to Assumption 14-12. Its first of the season, and will be looking to get back on the winning track.

Comparatively, the Trojans were setback by the Pioneers 53-0 on Sept. 15, but emerged winners last Friday when the Illinois High School Association ruled Assumption utilized an ineligible player in those contests and forced the Pioneers to forfeit its first three games.

"WE KNOW we've got to score some points to beat them," explained Trojan coach Don Smith. "It's for that reason that we've been working more on our offense this week, particularly our running game."

"It's going to take more than offense to stop them I know, but if we can score some points offensively, and our defense is respectable we can be in the game," Smith said.

In JuCo Volleyball Slowdown lifts Stars by SLCC

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Having played each other just four days ago, the Granite City Center Stars and the St. Louis Christian College Soldiers took similar approaches to their rematch Tuesday evening.

Both teams slowed down. And while it was a successful plan on the part of the Stars who won the match in three straight games, the slowdown for the Soldiers was definitely unintentional.

"We played a two-hour and 15-minute match last night against Lincoln Christian," said SLCC coach Lisa Books. "That was rough. We have to rely on the same girls night after night because we only have nine on the team."

"THAT'S NO excuse for the mental errors we made. But you can tell fatigue is setting in."

The Stars, after beating SLCC in three of four games Friday, came into the match with confidence. According to coach Clabbe Briggs, the players slowed down their offense to search for better openings.

"Before, I think there had been too much anticipation of wanting to kill the ball," said Briggs, whose team won 15-6, 15-3, 15-13. "Now we've slowed it down and look for the holes. The ball hit the (opponent's) floor more often tonight than against anyone else."

THAT'S not to say the Stars aren't spiking the ball. Instead, they're being more selective with their spikes.

Especially effective was Kely Anderson, a freshman from Edwardsville. Anderson blasted a spike cross-court midway through the last game Tuesday, slamming the ball precisely in an opening in the backcourt. The display of power brought an enthusiastic roar of applause from the Granite City fans.

"She has excellent technique," said Briggs. "If she ever gets her timing down right, she'll be great. Tonight was probably one of her best nights."

"SHE has a tendency to hit the ball too long. But that one cross-court spike tonight was perfect."

Serving also proved to be a positive point for GCC. The Stars did not even have to make a complete rotation in the first game, as just five players served.

"We've been working on that lately and it seems to have helped," said

Briggs. "We've also been practicing on our passing. We have the players to spike the ball, but you have to get it to them first."

Briggs said she was impressed with the way her players responded to her game plan.

"When we played them Friday, we bombarded them with spikes," she said. "Today I told them we had to mix it up. They did just that."

WITH the defeat, the Soldiers dropped to 3-7. Books said she believes her team should improve as the season progresses.

"We have the potential of beating this team (GCC)," said Books. "But we're inexperienced and we need playing time together. Four of our starters are freshmen."

For Briggs, who has five starting freshmen, the Stars are succeeding because each player has her own unique strong points. This combination of strengths is what has helped boost the team to a 6-4 record, she said.

"We're about ready to see how good we really are," she said, explaining that the team faces Mineral Area and Three Rivers colleges Saturday. "It should be a good test."

In the final doubles match of the afternoon, Linda Briner and Robyn Morien shutout Amy Woods and Cathy Kinley 6-0, 6-0.

Wednesday's pairing against Waterloo, the Warriors weren't even tested as first singles player Marsha Williams, second singles player Angela Pinkston and third singles player Beth Suss each stroked their way to easy victories. Between the three, the local girls yielded just six in 42 games.

In doubles action, the Warriors had an equally easy time. The doubles duo of Parra and Schwartz breezed to a 6-4, 6-1 victory while the Ousley and Suarez duo bettered their opponents 6-0, 6-1.

Psalm 20:7 "Some trust in chariots, and some in horses, but we will remember the name of the Lord our God."

We will remember the name of the Lord our God. And why not? God has highly exalted Christ our Savior, and given him a name that is above every name! That at the name of Jesus, every knee would bow and every tongue would confess that He is Lord, to the glory of God.

There is power and authority in the name of Jesus. Christ said believers could, in his name, speak with new tongues, and cast out devils. He told us to ask anything in his name and he would do it.

With promises like these, from the Word of God, surely we will have no problems remembering the name of the Lord.

Will you remember? NOV 1984

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

This week is National Newspaper Week and this year's theme is "Newspapers: Lighting Freedom's Way." The reporting of governmental meetings, spotlighting the Granite City Council meeting last week, is used here to illustrate this theme. Photographs include coverage of the meeting and the various stages leading to the final printed newspaper. Top Photo — Press-Record reporter Susan Signaigo-Weich listens intently and takes notes at the meeting in the Granite City Township Hall. At right are Mayor Paul Schuler and City Attorney John Papa. Center left — The following morning she writes a, then potential, front-page story about the meeting, using a video display terminal. Center right — Dorothy Branz, a union printer at the Press-Record, places the story, or "galley" of type, on the front-page, make-up sheet on press-day morning just hours before the presses roll. Bottom right — The full-size page negative is ready to be transferred onto the off-set printing plate. Above — The front page, with the city council story, is checked over by the reporter in the pressroom as thousands of Press-Records roll "hot off the press."

SIU-C students introduce lean dinners

By NICIA SCHMITT

Elegant entrees, low in calories and fat, are part of a new drive by some restaurants to serve food better than mom made—or, at least, better for you.

THE NEW MENUS are called Creative Cuisine by the American Heart Association (AHA), which is introducing the plan to restaurants nationwide.

"Foods high in fat and cholesterol are major causes of heart disease and high blood pressure," said Barbara Stover, a field representative in the Mount Vernon office of the AHA. "We hope to reduce the risk of serious heart disease and make people more aware of what they are eating."

Miss Stover is working with graduate students in food and nutrition at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale to encourage Southern Illinois restaurants to adopt Creative Cuisine menus.

SO FAR, ONE Carbondale restaurant has begun offering the alternative menu, and at least two others are considering it, according to the SIU volunteers, Kate Zager and Dorothy Laczynski, who is majoring in community dietetics.

Their teacher, SIU professor of food and nutrition Jeanne M. Endres, says that on the average, fat makes up more than 40 percent of the total calories eaten by adults. She has studied thousands of diets as the head of the Nutrient Dietary Data Analysis Laboratory on the SIU campus.

She also noted that heart disease is the number one killer of adults in the United States. "More than 550,000 people die of cardiovascular disease each year," Miss Endres said. "The AHA program is working to reduce fat intake to be about 30 percent of total calories eaten."

AHA OFFICERS say the low-fat foods concentrate on replacing such foods as butter and lard with corn and vegetable oils. Both foods contain fat, but they are different kinds of fat, they say.

Traditional foods frequently contain what are called saturated fats, which are higher in calories and cholesterol, which has been linked to heart disease.

The new menus use more unsaturated fats. Unsaturated fats are believed to break down more readily in the body and are less likely to be converted to body fat, according to many nutritionists.

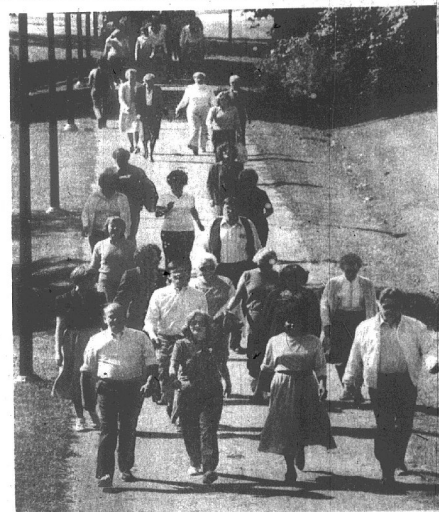

MISS STOVER said the Creative Cuisine menus she is encouraging include such substitutions as low-fat yogurt, non-fat milk and ice milk for sour cream, whipped cream or ice cream.

The menu at Stan Hoy's, a Carbondale restaurant that became one of the first in the state to offer Creative Cuisine, includes about 15 of the special items. They taste just as good as those from the regular menu, according to the restaurant's food and beverage director Brent Knop. "We're trying to make people on special diets feel more comfortable in a restaurant," he said. "The turnout has been real good."

Dr. Robert Eskridge has been promoted to vice-president for instruction at Belleville Area College. He had been academic dean at the college.

The organizational change was made to accommodate the growth of BAC, especially the establishment of Granite City and Red Bud centers and includes the elimination of the academic dean position.

Robert Eskridge is promoted at BAC overseeing instructional services, from deciding which classes to offer to planning for up-to-date laboratory equipment. As vice-president for instruction, he will continue these functions and work more closely with BAC President Dr. Bruce R. Wissors in determining the educational direction of the college.

Eskridge, a resident of Mascoutah, was named Administrator of the Year at the college in May.

He began working at BAC in 1977 as assistant registrar. IN 1980, he was named registrar and director of admissions. At the end of that year, he became the dean of career education, in charge of vocational programs.

In March of 1983, Eskridge (was named academic dean. Before coming to BAC, Eskridge served in the Air Force for 20 years, retiring in 1974 as a Chief Master Sergeant. After retirement, he was program administrator at McKendree College in Lebanon for three years.

ESKRIDGE RECEIVED his bachelor's degree from the University of Omaha, now the University of Nebraska at Omaha. He went on to earn a master's degree in education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and a doctorate in higher education from St. Louis University. He is completing a second master's degree in management from Webster University in St. Louis.

SIUE seeks $200 million in funds

State funds being sought to operate the Southern Illinois University System for Fiscal Year 1986, beginning July 1, 1985, total $200.5 million, an increase of nearly 15 percent over the current fiscal year.

Requests were approved by the SIU Board of Trustees as part of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP), a document required by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for communicating the university's planning decisions and resource requirements for the next fiscal year.

THE TOTAL proposed increase of $20.1 million is based principally on salary and price increase guidelines of 10 to 16 percent for employees; six percent for general price increases; 10 percent for library materials; 24 percent for telecommunications, and nine percent for utility price increases. SIU at Carbondale, 15 percent for the SIU School of Medicine, and 7.7 percent for SIU at Edwardsville.

THE RAMP request also includes $96,120 for operation and maintenance of new space at the School of Medicine; new and expanded programs and other special needs—$2.4 million at SIUE, $2.2 million at the School of Medicine, and $1.9 million at SIUE, and a final $225,000 negative base adjustment for the School of Medicine to reflect a reduction of previously financed enrollment increases.

The salary requests include 16 percent increases for faculty at SIUC and civil service employees at the School of Medicine, 10 percent for RAMP-defined administrators and 12 percent for 11 other employees.

BY UNITS, the operating budget request, excluding retirement contributions, area SIUE—$142.3 million; SIUE—$56.7 million; Office of the Chancellor—$1.5 million; System total—$200.5 million.

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced its schedule of classes which may be taken through Educared this fall.

Educared is a program which allows members of the community to attend selected regular credit classes on a non-credit basis.

THE PROGRAM give people who are not interested in obtaining an academic degree the opportunity to learn something about a particular subject or skill for a minimal cost. GC park commissioners discuss need for a new pool

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a two-part series containing information on the forthcoming bond issue for a new swimming pool in Wilson Park. It has been estimated by the park board commissioners that the average homeowner will pay approximately $13.75 a year for 10 years to finance the construction of a new swimming pool.)

The controversy over whether Granite City park district needs a new swimming pool or not — and if they do agree — will be the increase by too much of a burden, has prompted an interview with park commissioners to discuss documented information to present to the people so they fully understand the cost will not be exorbitant.

Park Commissioner John "Jeff" Worthen was asked, "How much will a new pool cost? His response follows:

"The cost on a yearly basis to the taxpayers to build a new pool is not very much. We have estimated the cost for the bonds to be approximately 11 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Simply take your assessed valuation shown on the current tax bill and multiply by 11 cents. In most cases, it's probably under $25 for the year."

"The average assessment of a Granite City home is $16,000, which is then reduced by Senate Bill 1790 value of $3,500, resulting in a net taxable value of $12,500," he explained. "The cost of the new pool (for this average home) would be only $13.75 per year. This additional tax will be in effect 10 years, the same length of time it took to pay off the bonds on the old pool when it was built. In fact, the tax on the ice rink, which was paid off several years ago, was $5.04, the increase for the new pool (over the level when the ice rink bonds were in effect) is only $.07," Worthen said.

Worthen continued, "The board is not insensitive to the fact that even small increases have to be weighed carefully by the public. We know this is just one more increase added to the others. We (the park board) hope the community will remember the excellent reputation that the park district has always enjoyed. We asked you to understand the current board has spent many, many hours in reviewing all expenditures of the district, making certain the taxpayers are getting the most meaningful value for their tax dollar."

"I don't think there is any doubt that the park district adds to property values. It has been the responsible decision of the board that we cannot continue to invest large sums of money in pool repairs and water costs involved. We need to upgrade other facilities and, besides, there is no guarantee that even with continuing repairs that we will be able to keep the old pool open," Worthen said. "Upon question, Worthen said, 'We hope the public will consider the low cost increase to their taxes, will weigh the overall value of the district to their community and, most of all, agree that if we are ever going to start bringing our city back to the road of recovery, we have to do something positive. A new pool is a start. It's something which we all can use and be proud of.'"

Nancy Sanders answered the question, "Why is the pool on the ballot with the school issue?" "Our main concern with the pool this year was safety, therefore, we hired a professional engineer to evaluate the condition of the pool and make a recommendation to the board. The engineer's report was not encouraging."

"Although the pool was safe, its age had caused much deterioration and he could not see much useful life left in the pool without extensive repairs. Because of the costs involved, we had to be very selective as to which repairs are authorized. Simply put, we could not afford everything he recommended."

"Additionally, if we spent the several hundred thousand dollars involved, we still had an old pool. With information on new pool costs, as well as major renovation costs, we had a series of public meetings to advise everyone of the situation. We went out and asked for opinions, and suggested several alternatives: closing the pool, operating 'as is,' renovating or building a new pool," Miss Sanders explained.

"In these meetings, as well as other polls which were conducted, one by the Granite City Press-Record, we found a 75 percent favorable attitude to the idea of building a new facility. The public, in effect, was telling us what it wanted. They asked for the right to vote for a new pool, knowing the cost would be about $1.2 million, and also knowing the school district (bond issue and tax referendum) would most likely be on the ballot."

Miss Sanders continued, "It was the board's opinion that we had an obligation to those people who had come forward wanting a new pool. The obligation was to give them the right to vote. Granite City has demonstrated in recent years that we could not hold a special election. We had to have the election either this November or in the city election next spring. At the time, we arrived at our decision, there were still a lot of questions regarding the school issue."

"The board decided that to wait until next spring would lose valuable time and could potentially increase construction costs if passed. In no way is it our intent to either harm or compete with the school bond issue. Our need is a new park district residents indicated to us they wanted the opportunity to approve a new pool. We have given them that opportunity," Miss Sanders concluded.

Commissioner Barry Loman also commented on the topic, "Why do we need a new pool? Granite City has a valuable community asset, its city park district. Probably the lives of everyone who has ever lived in Granite City has been touched in some way or other by the park district."

"I believe strongly that it has added to the quality of living in this community. A valuable part of the park system is the swimming pool. We have enjoyed a public swimming pool for as long as most people can remember. Thousands of youngsters have learned to swim in Wilson Park pool and senior citizens have enjoyed a special swimming pool in the years. We normally have some where between 20,000 to 30,000 admissions each year. That's a lot of people enjoying their park and its pool."

"The park board recognizes the need for a public swimming pool. After careful review by the board, examining repair costs through the years, evaluating the report of a professional engineer hired to study the pool, we decided to go to the public in a series of open meetings. Because of all the problems with the pool, as well as concern about meeting newer state regulations, it was determined that it would be an economically sound decision to attempt renovation," Loman said.

In his answer, Loman added, "We would still have a 45-year-old pool and, besides, we would still have to pass a bond issue referendum to get the money, which was estimated to be 70 percent of the cost of a new pool. We need a new pool, not only for the young people, but for all of us. Remember, not everyone can afford to belong to private clubs or to own a backyard pool."

"A new pool is an investment in our future. Our parents and grandparents made sure that we and our children had a place to swim. We ought to pass the same thing on to the next generation of young people. They learn to swim in the pool. It's vitally important. Where will the youngsters learn how to swim if not at the park pool?"

"What happens to the free swimming for the seniors each morning? Anyone who has passed by the pool on a hot July afternoon knows why there is a need for a pool. A lot of reasons," Loman concluded.

Candidates sought for Young Careerist honors

The Gateway Business and Professional Women's Club is seeking candidates for its Young Careerist Woman Program and the deadline to submit applications has been extended to Friday, Oct. 19.

Prospective candidates are not required to be a BWP member, but must be between the ages of 21 and 39 and have at least one year of full time business or professional experience in her career area.

Applications or further information may be secured by potential candidates or their employers by calling Dee Hoover, Young Careerist chairman, after 5 p.m. at 876-2252, or by writing the chairman at 2213 Washington Ave.

Potential candidates should be living, working or continuing their education in the area served by the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which she will represent at the national level. If selected as winner at the local and district levels, Mrs. Hoover explained.

She should be outstanding in scholastic achievement, community service and/or church work, the chairman said. Each candidate also is required to submit a 200-word typed autobiography or resume and a black and white photo.

Candidates are required to present a three-minute speech on the topic "Young Careerists Focus on Tomorrow."

Those entering the contest will be guests at the Gateway BWP Club at its Nov. 12 dinner meeting when each candidate will deliver her prepared speech.

The local winner, determined by a panel of impartial judges, then qualifies to advance to District 14 competition. The district winner then is eligible to compete at the state BWP convention next spring, with the successful state candidate advancing to the national BWP convention in July 1985.

Expenses incurred by the winning candidate will be financed by the Gateway BWP, Mrs. Hoover said. The program honors young career women in various career fields and is presented under the auspices of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Tap, ballet classes to begin Oct. 24

The Granite City Park District Tap and Ballet Classes will begin on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Ames avenues at Pontoon Road. Classes will be conducted from 4 to 7 p.m.

This program is for children in kindergarten thru Grade 6. Registration for this program will be at the Brown Recreation Center on the first day of class. No fee is charged for park district residents with a park ID card or proof of residency. A fee of $10 will be charged to non-residents.

The class schedule for this winter will be as follows: kindergarten and first grade 1-4 to 5 p.m.; grades 2 and 3-5 to 6 p.m., and grades 4 through 6-6 to 7 p.m.

Event to raise funds for ill children

Henry O. Nussbaum, president of the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Central Illinois, had announced a three-day fund-raising event for Oct. 12 through 14 at the Holiday Inn Alton Parkway.

The foundation, which grants special wishes to terminally ill children, will host activities including a show Biz Pizza Party, games, contests, a baby contest, talent show and other events.

Nussbaum, corporate director of sales for Albanese Development Corporation which owns the Holiday Inn Alton Parkway, said the funds raised will be used to grant the final wishes of children ages 3 to 18 in the Illinois area. More than 750 children have been granted special wishes through the national foundation during the past four years.

"The wish may be for a trip to Disney World, meeting a celebrity, being a fireman for a day or just for a special toy," Nussbaum noted. "In granting wishes, Make-A-Wish emphasizes the wholeness of the family. The family is never separated because an ill child needs to spend his or her final days with all of the family."

Hours for the weekend activities are 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Illinois Lieutenant Governor George M. Ryan officially will open activities Friday. At that time, he will make a special presentation on behalf of the state to Olympic gold medalist Al Joyner of East St. Louis. Fredbird the Redbird, Ronald McDonald, Six Flags characters, Shriner clowns, sports personalities, media, civic and government officials and celebrities also will be in attendance.

Information regarding the weekend can be obtained by calling Holiday Inn Alton Parkway at 1-462-1220.

All requests for wishes must be submitted in writing to the Make-A-Wish board of directors at its offices in the Contact Ministries office at 318 South Sixth St., Post Office Box 1089, Springfield, Ill., 62705. The referral person will then be contacted by Make-A-Wish for additional information.

Wishes are funded primarily by individual contributions from area businesses. Persons, organizations and business wishing to participate in the support of the foundation may send contributions to the Make-A-Wish office in Springfield or directly to Holiday Inn Alton Parkway, 3800 Homer M. Adams Parkway Drive, Alton, Ill., 62002.

While total employment is expected to increase by 111,000 or 2.1 percent, white collar employment and service jobs are expected to outpace that trend. Blue collar employment is expected to decline by 72,000 or 4.3 percent, and farm employment is expected to shrink by 16,000 or 15.3 percent.

"The decline in these employment areas is indicative of further shrinkage of manufacturing jobs in Illinois. A possible result may be continued high unemployment in Illinois while the nation as a whole shows signs of recovery. August unemployment in Illinois was 8.7 percent, compared to a 7.5 percent national rate," Burris commented.

GC Masonic leaders honored at supreme council meeting

The highest honor of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, the 33rd degree, was conferred on a selected group of Freemasons in the grand ballroom of the Copple Place Marriott Hotel, Boston, Mass.

C. Wayne Banks, 3202 Newell Drive, was among those receiving the honor at the annual meeting and Kelly J. Hogan, 2304 Westmoreland Drive, is among 21 Illinois Masons chosen for the honor in 1985. Also selected from the surrounding area were Lee West Crowe, Belleville, and Walter LeRoy Zimmerman, Alton, who will receive the coveted honor next year.

The degree conferral climaxed the annual meeting of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite for the 15 Northeastern and Midwestern states, comprising the 475,000 member Northern Jurisdiction of the United States.

A total of 148 received the degree in the 1984 class. The 33rd degree is awarded for "outstanding service to Freemasonry or for significant contributions to humanity, reflected in credit upon the Fraternity," according to a national spokesman.

Hogan will receive the honor along with 158 other leading Masons, chosen from a national list, at the next convocation scheduled for Sept. 25, 1985, in Detroit, Mich.

Nominees are selected from the 475,000 members of the 172-year old fraternal order.

The meeting at Boston, this year, also saw the supreme council's triennial election and the current roster of supreme council officers and state deputies were re-elected.

Heading the list is Stanley F. Maxwell of Lexington, Mass., re-elected to a fourth 3-year term as sovereign grand commander of the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction. Francis G.
Paul of Endwell, N.Y. was re-elected as grand lieutenant commander and also deputy for his state, and George E. Burrow of Dan-

KELLY J. HOGAN

C. WAYNE BANKS

ville, Ill., will again occupy the third-ranking post as grand minister of state.

Also, Robert B. Perkins of Belleville, was among the state deputies confirmed in their positions for the forthcoming year.

In final actions the supreme council following a four-year hiatus resumed official relations with the Scottish Rite organization in Italy with headquarters at Via Giusti-niani, 5, Rome, and headed by Sovereign Grand Commander Manlio Cecovini, as leader of the supreme council for Italy.

Speaking before the supreme council's 172nd annual meeting Commander Maxwell reminded more than 1,100 thirty-third degree Masons that this year marks the 50th anniversary of the major charitable program of the Northern Jurisdiction, its support of basic and coordinated research into the underlying causes of schizophrenia, the most prevalent and serious form of mental illness.

Maxwell recalled the early beginnings of the program as it commenced in 1934 with a modest initial budget of $15,000. The money was used for a survey of existing research activity at a time when schizophrenia was known as
"dementia praecox."

From this beginning, the research program has expanded to the point where during the past year $700,000 was appropriated by the supreme council Benevolent Foundation to fund 20 new research investigations over a two-year period.

A similar amount has been designated for further research projects to be selected by Scottish Rite's professional advisory committee in 1985.

Among those attending the 1984 session were representatives from supreme councils located in the southern jurisdiction of the United States, Canada, Mexico, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Peru, Brazil, the Netherlands, France, Spain, Indo-China, Greece, Iran and the Philippines.

Garrett, Huber competing Nov. 6

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

An active campaign has developed for the District 23 Madison County Board position currently held by Roderick L. Bauder. A four-year term is to be decided Nov. 6.

Donald E. Garrett, a Madison alderman and member of the Madison School Board, defeated Bauder in the Democratic primary election in March, 1981 to 850.
A Republican Party committee last chose John F. Huber of Granite City as the Grand Old Party's candidate for the County Board post.

GARRETT, 46, Democratic committeeman of Venice Township Precinct Five, owns and operates a public relations and promotions company.

Huber, 33, is employed as a driver at the Illinois Mental Health Center in Alton. He is a newcomer to the role of election candidate but is involved in politics as vice-chairman of the Granite City Republican Party.

Garrett has served on the executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

HE WAS A MEMBER of that group's screening committee when it conducted hearings to evaluate candidates. The screening process was eliminated by the party this year.

Garrett was elected to the Madison Board of Education in April 1979 and won a new four-year term in November 1983.

DONALD GARRETT

Democratic nominee

JOHN HUBER

Dist. 23 candidate

A member of the Madison City Council since 1975, he was re-elected in April 1983.

Graduating from the former Dunbar High School in Madison, he attended Washington University, the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

FORMERLY EDITOR of an East St. Louis newspaper, he is a member of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, Urban League, Leading Men and National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

When he ran previously for the County Board, he assailed the Madison area's boundaries as ge-rymandered—lacking compactness and common interests. The district includes portions of the Venice-Madison area, east Granite and Nameoki Township.

In his 1984 campaigning he has cited "excessive taxation and no representation; insensitivity and lack of respect by county government toward Quad-City residents and local Quad-City officials; and inability by the county to direct some of its resources to help with economic development in the Quad-City area, especially the City of Venice."

"There has been no county help in relieving some of the unemployment that exists in our area."

"OUR TAX DOLLARS go to Edwardsville and stay there to help develop the Edwardsville, Glen Carbon, Wood River and Collinsville areas," Garrett is asserting.

Huber in his campaigning is promising to "serve all the people."

He has avoided commenting on specific issues, saying he does not yet have the benefit of County Board experience. But he does say he would serve conscientiously and would work hard to improve county services and decisions.

HUBER AGREES that the board district is spread over a large area, including five precincts in Venice Township, two in Granite City and two in Nameoki Township. He adds that he would devote the time required to serve all of those precincts.

A U.S. Navy veteran and a Granite Cityan for 12 years, he is a member of Local 325, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and Local 1063, United Steelworkers of America.

He resides at 2820 Emzee Ave.
with his wife, Gloria, and their son, Jay, a Granite City High School student. They have a total of two sons three daughters and three grandsons.

BEFORE BECOMING a state employee, Huber drove a fork lift truck at American Steel Foundries, Granite City, leaving that work when the plant shut down.

He attended Maplewood, Mo., schools and Washington University, and was assistant purchasing agent for the Gates Co. in Quincy, Ill.

Huber has been active in the Boy Scouts of America, including service as a cubmaster and an assistant scoutmaster.

AS GOP COMMITTEEMAN of Granite City Precinct Nine, he says he is interested in effective government at all levels.

Huber is convinced that his participation could enhance the 29-member countywide governing body, which has only three Republican members at present.

Although never winner of a public elective office other than that of party precinct committeeman, he cites family with many areas of Madison County, including Nameoki, Granite City, Venice—where relatives reside—and the Alton area.

Incentives to re-enlist

Some former Air Force personnel are being offered their old positions, according to Technical Sgt. Mike Lunsford, Air Force recruiter.

Prior Service men and women who were discharged from the Air Force within the past five years are eligible to reenlist, if their former skill is on the Air Force's needed list, he noted.

"Ex-service personnel from other branches of the military may qualify for Air Force enlistment too," Lunsford said.

Prior Air Force, Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard men and women are urged to contact Lunsford at 4 Executive Drive, Suite
1, Fairview Heights, Ill. 62208 or call 1-624-3363 for more information.
